Work To Start Tuesday On High School Stadium

Plans for Project Are Approved by FERA Officials

READY BY OCTOBER

Will Provide Excellent Facilities for Harding Football Games

The FERA project for the erection of a Harding High school athletic stadium on the new athletic field at the east end of Walnut street was approved today by FERA works division engineers in Columbus. The first shovel of dirt for the foundation of the structure will be turned Tuesday.

The federal engineers notified Erwin Nesper Marion county works division manager of the approval by telephone shortly before noon today.

Twenty-five FERA workers will spend Monday laying out the area on which the stadium will be erected and digging of the foundation will be started Tuesday.

Ready by Oct 1

It is expected that the stadium proper exclusive of the proposed field house will be completed by Oct. 1 in time for the fall football season. The field house to be built under the stadium will be erected later Mr Nesper said pending further appropriation of funds for materials by the city board of education and approval of the sub project by FERA engineers.

While the total cost of the stadium and field house has not been definitely set the FERA has allocated funds for labor and the board of education has appropriated money for materials which is felt will be sufficient to erect the stadium proper and a 2 100-foot fence surrounding the foot ball field.

The total cost of the stadium proper and the fence has been approved at $17 390 Mr Nesper said. Of this amount the FERA has allocated $[illegible] for labor costs on the stadium and $620 for labor costs on the fence. This will place the cost for materials to the board of education near $8 000 of which $5 500 would be for materials and equipment for the stadium. The remaining $2 500 estimated materials cost of the fence will be met in part by the board. The estimated cost is a liberal one it was pointed out.

On Dec 13 the board of education appropriated $5 500 for materials. C A Hudson superintendent of schools pointed out that this appropriation will not come out of the school's operating expense but will be taken from a building and improvement fund most of which is impounded in closed banks. However a large part of it is now available he said and recently the board obtained $1 500 from one of the banks. There remains slightly under $35 000 which can be used only for building and improvement.

DAVEY ATTACKS FUND CUT FOES

Labels Action of Republicans On Control Board Narrow and Absurd Partisanship

SAYS THEY HALT ECONOMY

Governor's Statement Follows Filing of Supreme Court Suit of Utilities Group

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 29—Defending his budget funds transfer plan Gov Davey turned verbal guns on political foes today.

The action of two Republican members of the state control board in blocking fund transfer in connection with Davey's $8 800 000 veto of general appropriations bill items was termed by the executive narrow partisanship in its most absurd form.

In a statement Davey declared they are attempting to block the economy program and are showing themselves to be enemies of the distressed taxpayers of Ohio.

Seeking a supreme court test of the board's authority to transfer funds Republican Auditor Joseph T Tracy and William S Pratt representing Republican Attorney General John W Bricker blocked the governor's transfer plans.

Davey's statement followed filing with the supreme court by the state utilities commission a mandamus suit against the board. Bricker countered with a demurrer and the court set July 6 for hearing.

The commission's move came as a surprise. It planned to file the suit Thursday but delayed at the request of Davey and announced that no action would be taken until next week.

Among items vetoed by Gov Davey were many for necessary functioning of various departments. The executive proposed to transfer funds from appropriations he left intact for these services.

The talk about constitutionality is a silly and weak excuse for failure to do their duty under the law Davey said.

None but the supreme court can determine the constitutionality. Until some transfer is actually made it is difficult to see how any issues of this sort could come before the court.

I wish to serve notice on them and all others there will be no special session of the legislature to do the work that the board of control was created to perform. There will be no additional appropriations now or any other time during this biennium except for extraordinary and emergency purpose.

FERA WORK FUND IS INCREASED HERE

Relief Grant Is Decreased Under New Employment Program

Full force of the federal government's previously announced program of putting employable relief clients to work was reflected today in July relief grants for Marion county received from the federal relief administration by John Abel county relief director.

The FERA grant for July is $16 790 an increase of $[illegible] over the grant for June. The new grant Mr Abel said contemplates a decided increase in the number of FERA workers. Approximately 600 are now working on projects. Erwin Nesper county FERA works manager said he hopes to have around 1 000 working within three weeks.

At the same time the federal relief official slashed the direct relief grant to $[illegible] for July as compared with $[illegible] granted for June a month ago.

Commencement of work on the athletic field stadium Monday increases in the number of men working on the courthouse heater and fuel room project and others now under way and new projects expected to be approved within a few days are expected to absorb the increased number of FERA workers made possible under the July grant.

FERRIS HUNTED AS MURDER KEY

Suspect's Name Brought in by Taxi Driver's Story of Demand for Service

GIRL FRIENDS MISSING

Bobbie and Florence Beleived To Know Great Deal About Crime Case

By The Associated Press

DETROIT June 29 William Lee Ferris 30 known to police under half a dozen aliases was hunted throughout the middle west today as the central figure in the death of Howard Carter Dickinson [illegible]-year-old New York attorney and nephew of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes shot to death and dumped from an automobile in a park driveway last Thursday.

Ferris' name was injected into the case by Andrew J Smygren a taxidriver who said Ferris told him he might need a cab for a meeting with a New York lawyer named Dickinson who had a lot of money.

The Ferris trail was 24 hours old before detectives picked it up. Chief of Detectives Fred W Frahm reported that Ferris apparently had dropped completely out of sight.

Also missing from their usual haunts police said were two girl acquaintances of Ferris one described as redheaded and freckled and attired in a linen suit.

Detectives said they knew only the first names of the girls Bobbie and Florence. Their angle in the Dickinson case was not made clear by officers but Chief Frahm said we believe that in addition to Ferris at least a couple of women know a great deal about this.

Ferris once tried and acquitted on a murder charge was reported by Chief Frahm to have a record of six arrests but the record showed no convictions.

It was disclosed that Dickinson

Recommendations for City Hospital Operation Drawn At Meeting With Officials

Advisory Groups Favor Employment of Out-of-Town Nurse To Fill Position of Supervisor

BOARD SUGGESTED

Man Trained in Hospital Work Favored for Position of Director or Business Manager.

Two definite recommendations for future operation of the city hospital were agreed upon last night by the hospital advisory committee city council hospital committee and representatives of the Women's hospital board. The group also approved a third recommendation submitted in a communication from Mayor Clarence A Bolin who was unable to attend the meeting held in the office of the city health board.

The recommendations are (1) that a qualified woman from out of the city be brought in to act as supervisor of nurses and (2) that a man trained in hospital management be sought for the position of business manager or financial director. Mayor Bolin's suggestion that met approval called for seeking enactment by the legislature of a law creating a hospital commission for Marion to be elected by the people and oversee hospital activities in the same manner as the board of education directs the operation of city schools.

Point to Advantages

Recommendation that an out-of-city supervisor of nurses be employed was made after those attending the meeting pointed out the possible advantages of bringing in someone who has no strings to pull no axes to grind and no friends to favor. It also followed a statement by Safety Director W N Hams that he would consider only one Marion woman for the position and that this woman had expressed her willingness to cooperate with the hospital in a lesser capacity.

Several persons last night pointed out the possible advantage of bringing in some one not acquainted with the background of developments that led council to undertake recently a complete reorganization of the hospital.

This recommendation was presented to Safety Director Hams who has authority to make the appointment of a supervisor of nurses.

The recommendation that a trained hospital manager be sought was made in preference to a suggestion contained in Mayor Bolin's communication to the meeting that Safety Director Hams be given the position until a permanent operating plan for the hospital is worked out. This recommendation was made as a suggestion to city council which must create the position of hospital manager or financial director before an appointment can be made. It was understood that council in creating the posi-

COAL MEN CALL STRIKE MONDAY

Only Roosevelt's Intervention Can Prevent Walkout in Appalachian Fields

NEGOTIATIONS COLLAPSE

Union Leaders To Supply Maintenance Men During Halt in Operations

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 29 John L Lewis president of the United Mine Workers ordered all his members to stop work Sunday night at midnight.

In the absence of any White House action after the collapse of wage negotiations with Appalachian operators Lewis sent out telegrams to 6000 locals directing them to suspend mining of coal Monday.

He estimated [illegible] miners would be affected by the strike call.

The union's district presidents gathered here for wage parleys immediately left for their field headquarters to direct what may prove to be the biggest soft coal strike in the nation's history.

Meantime the operators looked to the White House for intervention. President Roosevelt said at his press conference yesterday he hoped present wages and hours would be extended until congress acted on the Guffey coal stabilization bill to set up a little NRA for the bituminous industry.

No Word from Roosevelt

By mid-afternoon neither Lewis nor the operators had heard directly from the White House and plans for the strike went forward.

We're wiring our local unions this afternoon to the effect that the joint wage negotiations have not been fruitful and that the joint conference has recessed subject to call by its chairman at some future date Lewis said.

The local unions and their members are instructed by the international policy committee to put into effect Monday instructions as set forth in a letter sent them June 1 193[illegible] and suspend mining of coal Monday.

Before taking action the operators rejected the United Mine Workers offer to supply maintenance men during the strike set for Sunday midnight.

So far President Roosevelt has not asked either John L Lewis president of the Mine Workers or the operators to continue the present wages and hours.

Hopes for Extension

Mr Roosevelt expressed hope at his semi-weekly press conference yesterday that an extension could be arranged.

The wage negotiations were closely linked with the fate of the Guffey coal stabilization bill now before a ways and means subcommittee. Hearings on this measure to set up a little NRA for the bituminous industry were completed yesterday.

Extended Twice Already

Present wages and hours have been extended twice April 1 and June 16 to give congress time to act on the bill. Chairman Hill Democrat of Washington of the ways and means subcommittee said yesterday he thought it would be reported by the middle of next week.

The miners had asked a 30 hour week instead of their present 35 hour week and a [illegible] increase averaging about 1[illegible] per cent. The operators offered to renew present wages and hours.

MAX BAER MARRIES COFFEE SHOP HEAD

Name of Bride-To-Be Revealed Following Issuance of Marriage License.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 29—Max Baer pugilism's playboy former heavyweight champion will be married here today to Mary Ellen Sullivan of Ithaca N Y.

The name of the bride-to-be which the bridegroom had sought to conceal until after the ceremony was revealed on the marriage license issued this morning by the clerk of the District of Columbia.

She gave her age as 22. Baer gave his as 26.

Court officials said Justice F Dickinson Letts of the District of Columbia supreme court, would perform the ceremony for the couple during the day.

Miss Sullivan is the manager of the Willard Hotel Coffee shop, where friends said Baer has been a frequent patron on previous visits to Washington.

Fellow hotel employes described her as tall and dark, very capable and "a girl who keeps her affairs to her self."

The bride-to-be, who was said to have come to the capital from Rochester, N. Y., about two years ago, first sent word today that she did not know Baer. A few moments later she disappeared from the hotel, where she lives, presumably to go with the fighter to the [illegible]

HOLDING FIRMS' END DEMANDED

Senators Warn House 'Death Sentence' Must Be Included In Utilities Bill

ROOSEVELT RAPS LOBBY

Claims Deliberate Falsification Employed to Prevent Measure's Passage

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 29 Senate leaders warned today they would move to kill the administration's utilities bill if the house does not approve the death sentence abolishing holding companies.

This threat was made after President Roosevelt in renewing his demand for mandatory abolition charged that the most powerful lobby ever organized was employing deliberate falsifications in the fight against the provision.

If the bill passes the house in its present form without the death sentence said B K Wheeler Democrat of Montana I will vote to kill it in the senate.

Wheeler Opposes Measure

Wheeler coauthor of the legislation and leader of the senate forces which squeezed the bill through that chamber by a one vote margin said he had told the President he would have nothing to do with the house measure. Wheeler added he was willing to take the issue to the country in the next election.

The house gave up its Saturday holiday to continue the stormy debate which has stirred party lines and aroused already ragged tempers. Administration leaders were in [illegible] but admitted [illegible] the death sentence until next week.

That provision requiring abolition by 1942 of all holding companies which the government considers unnecessary was eliminated by the house interstate commerce committee. Instead the committee proposed to give the securities commission discretionary authority to wipe them out.

Wants Senate Bill

Speaking to reporters the President reiterated that he wanted the senate bill substituted for the house measure. He hit at contentions of utility companies that elimination of the holding firms would destroy the value of their securities. He contended their ending would really benefit stockholders by removing what he described as parasite companies now eating up profits in management fees and dividends.

Mr Roosevelt's statements coincided with a "cloakroom" campaign in the house to win support for the "death sentence." Leaders said they were gaining strength and that they had a margin of 23 votes.

FIRECRACKER DRIVE GETS UNDER WAY

Boy, 11, Arrested and Turned Over to Juvenile Court.

Police backed their warning against firecrackers with the arrest this morning of a 11-year-old boy in front of his home.

A quantity of small firecrackers was taken from him and he was turned over to juvenile court, where Judge Oscar Gast talked with him and released him. The boy was taken in custody after police received a complaint against the noise. Acting Police Capt. Fred Norton said.

Capt Norton yesterday issued a warning against the use of fireworks within the city limits saying the city ordinance outlawing them would be strictly enforced. Sparklers and other harmless fireworks are permissable.

MARION'S FRANCHISE BID TURNED DOWN

Proposal For Place in Ohio State Baseball League Rejected at Meeting

Marion's bid for a franchise in the new Ohio State baseball league was rejected last night at a meeting of league representatives in Mansfield according to an Associated Press dispatch from that city today.

The Ohio State league will enter the second half of its schedule with the same teams as competed in the first half. The bid of Marion for a charter was presented by Don Schwartz director of physical education at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school, and by Harry Smith of Columbus president of the circuit.

The teams in the league are Canton Tiffin Mansfield Cleveland, New Philadelphia and Alliance. Although the Alliance team will retain its franchise, it will be removed to another city as yet unselected Smith said

Another Chore

(Special to The Star)

BEVERLY HILLS Calif, June 29—Every day now congress gets a message from the White House. Congress opens the letter with about the same enthusiasm as we do one with a "please remit."

"I'd Rather Face a Thousand Spikes than Another Blow-out"

MICKEY COCHRANE

Manager, Detroit Tigers

● I've had plenty of close shaves in my years' experience behind the plate. Many a time I've been laid low by flying spikes, foul tips and flying bats. But the scares I've had were tame compared to the torture I went through when I had a blow-out. BANG! The car fairly dove off the road. Desperately I grabbed the wheel but my whole strength wasn't enough to overcome the terrible drag that set in. I love thrills all right but the thought of another blow-out scares me stiff.

DISTRIBUTION OF TAX MADE

Personal Property Levy Divided Among Subdivisions of County.

Semi-annual distribution of personal property taxes was made yesterday by Miss Edith Ebling, deputy in the office of County Auditor Harry V. Mounts.

Tangible and intangible property taxes collected for the half year totaled $61,513.17, an increase over $[illegible]552.95 received in the corresponding period a year ago. An increase of one per cent in the tax against the income yield of stocks, bonds and similar papers is credited by officials for the gain. Amounts received by the subdivisions are approximately the amounts they expected to receive from the distribution, and no changes in the financial programs are expected by county officials to result from the distribution.

Of the total, $37,131.24 was collected in current taxes on tangible property, $4,928.62 in delinquent tax on personal property, $15,954.[illegible] in current levies against intangibles and $495.62 in delinquent taxes on intangibles.

After $1,545.40 was set aside in the county treasury for the auditor's and treasurer's fees and $112.56 in refunds deducted, $59,554.59 remained for distribution.

Of this, the city received $24,663.25 including $5,479.86 for operating purposes and $19,183.39 for bond retirement, the city schools $13,654.40 including $7,012.22 for operating purposes and $5,642.18 for debt, the county, $7,904.83, including $6,913.19 for operating purposes and $991.64 for poor relief bonds.

Townships received $974.24, villages $267.49, city library, $4,259, rural schools, $6,863.55 and state $47.20.

U. S. CENSUS REPORT SHOWS BIRTH RATE

Marion, Bucyrus and Mansfield Included in Summary.

A summary of figures showing the number of births and infant mortality rate in Marion, Mansfield and Bucyrus in 1934 has been compiled by the United States bureau of census.

The table shows that there were 539 live births in Marion in 1934, 158 in Bucyrus and 715 in Mansfield.

In relation to every 1,000 estimated population the live birthrate in Marion last year was 17.1, an increase of one over 1933, when the ratio was 16.1. In Mansfield in 1934 the ratio per 1,000 in population was 18 as compared with 15.2 in 1933, and in Bucyrus it was 15.8 last year compared to 12.5 the year before.

There were 31 deaths among infants under one year of age in 1934. In Bucyrus there were seven such deaths, and in Mansfield 38.

TWO BEECH GROUPS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Mark 50th Anniversary of Mission Band.

Special to The Star

BEECH, June 29—The annual picnic of the Little Heralds and Mission band of the Rural Salem Evangelical church was held Thursday at the home of Misses Maxine and Eileen Gillson of near Edison.

The occasion marked the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Mission band of the Evangelical church.

The mothers of the children were guests at the picnic. Following the picnic dinner a program in charge of the Mission band leader, Mrs. Charles Adams, was held. Devotionals were in charge of Gerald Klinefelter with Geneva Ault reading the scripture lesson.

There was a trombone solo by Helen Gilson accompanied at the piano by her sister, Maxine Gillson; a reading, "What If," by Marguerite Loyer, vocal solo, "Tell It Again," by Juanita Metzger. A talk, "China and Japan," was given by Mrs. E. F. Tittelbaugh.

MASTER AERIAL FOR RADIOS INSTALLED

The first master radio aerial in Marion has been installed in the Lido apartments at West Church and Pearl streets. The installation of the aerial and insulating the roof are two in a series of recent improvements at the building.

Aerial and ground wires on radios in the 21 apartments are all hooked to the master aerial which is designed to eliminate all man-made static, improve clarity, selectivity and general reception of programs.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Prickly Heat.

SKIN DISORDERS are common during the summer months. Usually the disturbance is a temporary one and often is caused by excessive perspiration. One of the most common ailments is called "prickly heat."

It only occurs in hot weather and is then more prevalent among infants and young children. But it may affect adults who have delicate and sensitive skins. Some children may be subjected to excessive heat without any irritation whatever, while others will break out in a rash upon the slightest provocation.

The appearance of prickly heat often causes undue alarm. I assure you there is no need for worry because the condition is rarely of a serious nature.

Bright red blotches suddenly appear on the skin. The rash spreads with great rapidity to the neck, forehead, back and chest. At times the red patches are covered with small blisters. The sufferer complains of the severe itching and stinging of the skin.

As a rule, the attack lasts for two or three days. Occasionally it may continue for many weeks. The rash is often confused with that of some more serious and perhaps some contagious childhood disease. But it differs from an infectious disease in that fever is rarely, if ever, present. It is purely a local irritation of the skin.

During hot weather the glands of the skin secrete an excessive amount of sweat. As a result of this overactivity, the skin becomes irritated and inflamed. This is especially true if the child has a delicate skin, because the secretion is acid in its nature and readily irritates a delicate skin. If the youngster is susceptible to prickly heat and suffers in hot weather, he should be guarded against strenuous and over-active play during the summer months.

Prickly heat can often be traced to excessive exposure to the sun. Often it is the result of over-dressing, or the wearing of tight and irritating clothes. The child should be dressed in loose and cool clothing and adequately protected from excessive sunlight.

Occasionally an attack of prickly heat can be traced to an upset stomach. Digestive disturbances in warm weather often include among their symptoms severe irritation of the skin.

There is an old-fashioned belief that the eating of hot oatmeal during the summer will "overheat the blood" and lead to prickly heat. Perhaps this is true but there are other foods quite as likely to be responsible. For example, the disturbance may perhaps be traced to the taking of excessive amounts of protein foods, such as meat and eggs. During hot weather these foods should be given in temperate amounts, and any foods found difficult to digest should be omitted from the child's diet.

AUXILIARY TO UNION FORMED

Group Organized as Adjunct To Marion Typographical Union.

An organization meeting of Woman's Auxiliary No. 179 to Marion Typographical Union No. 675 was held last night at the home of Mrs. Virginia W. Sorreles of 275 Clover avenue.

The charter was issued under date of May 27 by Mrs. R. J. Lawther of Duluth, Minn., international secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Grace M. Loucks of Des Moines, Ia., international president.

Officers elected last night are as follows: Mrs. Flora C. Cahill, president; Mrs. Nellie Hecker, vice president; Mrs. Sorreles, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Mary H. Smith, chaplain; Miss Geneva Bell, guide.

Other charter members are Mrs. Kathleen Crites, Mrs. Bernice Custer, Mrs. Zella M. Custer, Mrs. Isabelle C. McGue, Mrs. Chloe Mosher, Mrs. Loretta Murphy, Miss Sarah E. Bell, Miss Ruth Cahill, Miss Mildred Custer and Miss Anna Mosher.

George W. Sorreles, president of the Marion Typographical union which sponsored the organization of the auxiliary, installed the officers. Each member was presented the official pin, the shape of the union printers' label bearing the inscription, "Woman's International Auxiliary to I. T. U., Instituted Aug. 13, 1902."

Mrs. Cahill appointed the following committees: Miss Sarah E. Bell, laws; Miss Cahill and Miss Mosher, entertainment; Mrs. Hecker and Mrs. Smith, relief; Mrs. Custer and Miss Geneva Bell, auditing; Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Mosher, [illegible]; Mrs. Murphy, label; Mrs. [illegible] [illegible] correspondent.

It was voted to extend charter privileges for another month. Mrs. Sorreles served refreshments assisted by Mrs. [illegible] Custer. Mrs. [illegible] [illegible] social.

The organization of the auxiliary was effected to create a closer and more fraternal feeling between the families and members of the union, to promote sociability and to render assistance in time of sickness and trouble, according to the president. The wives, mothers, widows and families of union printers, the wives, mothers and sisters of [illegible] printers and women members of the I. T. U. are eligible to membership. All members of Marion Union No. 675 are honorary members.

Mrs. McGue of 351 Oak street will entertain the auxiliary July 10.

READY MADE WIFE

—BY CORALIE STANTON—

(Copyright 1935, Coralie Stanton)

SYNOPSIS

In order to save herself and her sister Gladys from starvation or worse, Laurie Moore has pretended to her employer, Mark Albery, that she is Rex Moore's widow. But Moore, the airplane pilot, is not dead, and after two years he returns to London. It becomes necessary that Laurie and Rex continue the deception to enable Rex to hold his job. They are about to move into a flat lent them by Albery, for whom Rex also will work.

CHAPTER 10

New Job

THE morning after Rex Moore and his wife dined with him, Mark Albery discovered that young Mrs. Moore had come back to work, and sent a message to ask her to come to his office.

"I said you were to stay away until you were settled," he told her in the smooth, autocratic voice that went with his Oriental type.

"I am quite settled, thank you, Mr. Albery. It was easily done yesterday. Everything in the flat is so convenient and so beautiful. You have been so very kind to us."

"Not at all. I wanted your husband nearby. He and I have some very important plans to make. And the flat was empty. I took it for my young cousin when he came into the business, but he has gone over to the United States for six months. You are more than welcome, Mrs. Moore."

He was thinking that she did not look as happy as she ought to. Last night, at dinner, he had thought how beautiful she was. But very quiet. Of course, it must have been a great shock to her. And, though joy doesn't kill, it may frighten a sensitive nature.

Rex Moore he had not understood at all. He could make no contact with him. The young man seemed entirely withdrawn, his eyes, his words, his very self. He evidently would not speak of his experience after his crash.

To his wife he seemed abrupt, though friendly—so friendly as to be almost artificial. But, alone with Albery, he was full of plans, bursting with energy and ambition. And what a hard bargain he had driven for his exclusive services! The fellow had seemed to think of nothing but the money. Not a bit like Rex Moore of the old days.

Albery was more and more driven to the conclusion that his accident had caused a slight kink in his mind.

Albery felt his new dislike of the airman growing, as he watched him with his wife. The scene came back to him when, on that first night, he had broken the news to him of his wife being in London and employed by the firm.

How incomprehensible he had been. How offhand his manner had been, almost inhuman. Thinking it over, he wondered if Moore was disappointed to find she was in England. It almost looked like it. Perhaps he would rather she had been in Australia. Perhaps he had formed other ties. Two years was a long time for a man to live alone.

And how excessively anxious he had been to avoid all publicity!

Albery looked now at Laurie's pale, expressive face. Her eyes were shining, but they did not look like the eyes of a happy wife. His own dark ones glowed with sympathy.

"You were determined to come back to work?" he asked. "Your husband was not sure about it."

"Oh, yes, Mr. Albery! I couldn't give up my work." As Laurie spoke, she became at once her animated, interested business self.

"I am glad of it. I think you are wise, too. After all, Moore will be away a good deal. That's inevitable in his job. And I'm happy to find he's as keen as ever, Mrs. Moore. I have a proposal to make to you. If you agree, it will work in very well.

"Miss Dixie came back too soon, I'm afraid. Her illness has left her hearing impaired. I sent her to a specialist, and he has ordered a cure and a complete rest. It will take about three months. So I wondered if you would care to take her place again. It would suit me very well indeed. Your work was most satisfactory. What do you say?"

"Oh, Mr. Albery!" Laurie was taken aback. Of course, it was a rise, a big rise in the office. And she had found it most interesting. But she was of two minds.

A little voice deep inside her said—"No, don't take it on!" She had not the remotest idea why. Except that, perhaps she had at times felt slightly uncomfortable when she was with Mr. Albery. But that was ridiculous.

Her business mind pushed the doubt aside and grasped eagerly at the chance. "I can't say how proud I am that you should find me suitable," she said in her warm, throbbing voice.

"That's settled then. You'll begin tomorrow, please." He was strictly business-like. No one would imagine that his heart was beating fast and the blood pulsing in his veins. Not even his own secret mind admitted that he was in love with this girl and was determined to take her from Rex Moore, in one way or in another, sooner or later.

"It will be suitable in several ways," he added kindly. "Doing my personal work you will be more in the zone of your husband's job. All his work with me is entirely confidential. So we shall in a way all three be working together."

It was a wonderful piece of luck, and yet Laurie was in the grip of an uncomfortable mental depression, like a vague premonition of evil, as she went back to her own office for the last time.

That evening, when she left work, she collected the last of her personal belongings from her little flat, telling the landlady that she would come in now and then to see that everything was all right.

The good woman was naturally excited and bursting with curiosity, which Laurie could not satisfy. It had been enough to say that her husband, the famous airman, had come back from the dead, and that they were moving temporarily into another flat, as hers was not large enough when her sister came home. But was keeping it on as it was for the remainder of her lease.

She hailed a taxi and was driven to the new flat in Chelsea, not on the Embankment, but in a pleasant side street, with trees on either side, and with a view of the river from a bay window in the big front living room.

Monday, Mark and Laurie begin their strange life together.

MARION DELEGATES HOME FROM MEET

A group of Marion young people who attended the annual meeting of the Ohio Christian Endeavor union in Columbus this week had returned home today. Harry C. Spring of Chillicothe was reelected president of the Ohio union, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

George G. Barfield of Steubenville, Fay Meadows of Dayton, Victor R. Marsh of New Philadelphia and F. C. Dixon of Zanesville were named vice presidents.

Other new officers include R. Owen Harrison of Washington C. H., treasurer; Glenn Mason of Dayton, executive secretary; Mrs. Maude Cooper of Columbus, recording secretary, and Wesley O. Clark of Columbus, auditor.

Zanesville was designated as the 1936 convention city.

MORROW CO. PROJECT

FORMER FIGHTER HAS INTERESTING CAREER

Evangelist Will Preach Sunday at Three Churches East of Marion

Othie [illegible] of [illegible] will [illegible] Sunday [illegible] in the vicinity of [illegible]

He will preach at 9 30 a m at the [illegible] church at 10 [illegible] at the [illegible] M E church and [illegible] at the [illegible] church. His subject will be [illegible] Poverty

The evangelist has appeared in Marion on several occasions the most recent being last December when he spoke at Epworth M E and Calvary Evangelical churches

He has never asked an offering for himself in any church into which he has gone. Frequently he is asked how he can afford to carry on his work without cost. In reply he points to the case of William Flowers a Butler Pa real estate dealer who for the last seven years has been a conscientious tither and has aided Mr Sackett with his tithe money enabling the evangelist to go into the smaller churches without expense to the church

In 1928 Mr Sackett placed $1000 on deposit in a Butler Pa bank to be paid to any person who tithed for a year and at the end of that time had not gained spiritually and financially

He explained his plan to Mr Flowers and when the two met a year later Mr Flowers showed that in the period his business had shown a $2 000 profit. He presented Mr Sackett with his tithe check of $2[illegible] to be used in his evangelistic work

Mr Sackett was known in the prize ring as Young Kid McCoy

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, June 30

Sunday's horoscope is a very propitious one for all the conventional vocations and avocations of the sabbath with the church charity and especially the clergy under powerful influences for advancement and gratification. There is sign of great gain through elderly persons and institutions. This may involve important change with promotions and preferments in employment. It is a time for definitely forging ahead in this direction

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of solid advancement and prosperity with influential persons and powerful institutions contributing to success preferment and personal gratification and honors

A child born on this day may be ambitious diligent original and independent in its methods of attaining for itself brilliant position and prestige

Notable nativity: James Cardinal Gibbons Roman hierarchy

For Monday July 1

Monday's astrological forecast is for a splendid state of affairs with a decided trend in the direction of high goals and ambitions. This is supported by testimonies for excellent prospects in the way of big business with those in power disposed to substantially promote meritorious ventures

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of signal promise for success progress and prosperity all of which may be nullified by an indomitable urge to quarrels and recklessness in indulgences

A child born on this day may be ambitious and adventurous with many talents to back up its high aims. However tendencies to impulsiveness and indulgence be has or may prove its undoing

Notable nativity: Sir Robert Ball astronomer

Life's Greatest Question

A SERMONETTE

By REV WILLIAM M DAVIS
Pastor Calvary Evangelical Church

Text: Acts 16 30 "What must I do to be saved?"

LIFE is a big [illegible] many [illegible] from the cradle to the grave the [illegible] chubby hands grasping the mystery all about. From the dawn of civilization the race has been [illegible] has not been [illegible] on the basis of intellectual or everyday experience business or [illegible]. Some of the most brilliant [illegible] of history have made the [illegible] blunder of life [illegible] while some of the humble [illegible] made the grade in triumph and victory

There is an old book [illegible] in many circles [illegible] to please God some of us [illegible] believe. Now with the presupposition that the old book is true there is but one big question before us one that is overshadowing—incomparable. This question was asked in a jail in the long ago by a convicted pagan who had witnessed a demonstration of a supernatural visitation of God's power and also had observed the poise and mastery of two prisoners. Trembling and on bended knees he asked this one great question: What must I do to be saved

Our pleasure mad people a disturbed sin crazed generation has about lost all consideration for this the greatest and most important question before us all. Rich or poor honored or dishonored what is the major concern of the people? They are struggling with budgets. We mean of course those who still [illegible]

[illegible]

There is [illegible] one source of information [illegible] to answer this question and [illegible] the riddle of life [illegible] contained in the holy Bible [illegible] a lasting [illegible] is [illegible] When [illegible] ever in our thinking and conclusions there will be no satisfactory answer found [illegible] life's greatest question [illegible] is the answer [illegible] the truth and the [illegible] make you free [illegible] is the [illegible] that is in Christ Jesus

The Bible of the modern [illegible] not help us to answer the question asked by the Philippian jailer. A compilation of myths and fables compiled by a someone who do not know cannot untangle the [illegible] of life

The record says: In the beginning was the word and the word was with God and the word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. The word was made [illegible] and dwelt among us and [illegible] the Father [illegible] our Bible [illegible] through the [illegible] God [illegible] the world [illegible] pagan [illegible] and irresponsible [illegible]

If we are [illegible] answer to [illegible] of the soul we [illegible] Christ Jesus—[illegible] of God—[illegible] who [illegible] buried on the third day rose again from the dead [illegible] right hand of God the Father from [illegible] come again [illegible] the living and the dead

[illegible] we have also [illegible] the Incarnate Son of God

[illegible] we find this solution life will become more and more a disappointment and [illegible] to acknowledge [illegible] All is Vanity

[illegible] Life is [illegible] and the grave [illegible] Dust thou art to dust returneth was not spoken of the soul. Now hear Him — God's Son—our Saviour: I am the Resurrection and the Life. He that believeth in Me though he were dead yet shall he live and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die

Here we have the [illegible] to life's greatest question [illegible]

PATTERN 2241

Mrs. H. K. Mouser Listed in Women's 'Who's Who'

Marion Woman and Others from This Area Are Included Among 6,214 in Country.

Mrs. H. K. Mouser of 141 South Prospect street, widely known in Ohio music circles, is the only Marion woman to be listed among 6,214 in the country in "American Women," the official Who's Who of the women of the country.

A group of women from the vicinity of Marion and several from cities at a distance who are well known here are included in the list.

Others Known Here

They are Mrs. Nettie P. Padgett of Galion, well known in state federated women's club work; Clara E. Schiebe of Ada, a professor, and Audrey Kenyon Wilder, dean of women at Ohio Northern university at Ada; Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland; Dean Esther A. Gaw of Ohio State university; Mary F. Cook, Columbus sculptor who has spoken in Marion on several occasions; Mrs. Depew Head of Columbus, former Marion woman who has won statewide recognition as a book reviewer; Dr. Josephine L. Peirce of Lima, who this month was a candidate for president of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Jessie S. Kelley of Oxford, O., known throughout the state in music circles and well known in Marion. The following Delaware women are given places: Marie Drennan, author; Mary B. Hollister, writer; Sallie T. Humphreys, professor; Florence M. Nicholson, dean of women at Ohio Wesleyan university; Bertha E. Titsworth, professor.

Mrs. Mouser is listed in the volume as a teacher. She is a teacher of piano.

"American Women" has been published following a lengthy period of preparation during which questionnaires were sent to 15,000 women recommended by heads of organizations throughout the country.

Durward Howes, editor of the volume and also editor of a similar volume for men, "America's Young Men," said of the volume: "It seems unnecessary to justify the need of such a reference book—a permanent biographical record of outstanding American women."

Lists Organizations

In addition to the names and biographies of the women listed the volume also includes a list of the important national women's organizations of the nation and a statistical summary which reveals many interesting facts about women's endeavors.

Of the total number of women listed 448 were born in foreign countries, 41 per cent are married and 82 per cent attended college. Ages range from one woman born in 1842 to two born in 1914. Occupations which had the greatest number of women represented are writing, teaching, business, librarianship and editing. The women listed their hobbies in the following order of preference: Gardening, music, travel, reading, home and family and books.

The book contains forewords by Faith Baldwin, Carrie Jacobs Bond, Evangeline Booth, Rose M. Knox, Katharine F. Lenroot, Grace Morrison Poole, Nellie Tayloe Ross and Lillian D. Wald.

23 MARION COUNTY YOUTHS IN CCC LIST

Enrollment To Be Made Monday at Mansfield

The Marion county quota of 23 youths to be enrolled in the first summer enlistment of the civilian conservation corps will leave Monday for Mansfield where they will take a rigid physical examination before entraining for Fort Knox, Ky. Six alternates will be taken to Mansfield with the group, Boyd Titsworth, deputy CCC selecting agent here said.

Thirty five applications for CCC enrollment are on file at Mr. Titsworth's office above the Federal Transient bureau on North State street and additional ones are being taken daily in preparation for succeeding summer and fall enrollments, the next scheduled to come about Aug. 1.

After a short training period at Fort Knox the boys will be assigned to CCC camps in the Fifth Army Corps area comprising Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and a part of Tennessee and the Ninth Corps area composed of Pacific coast and western states.

MEET the WIFE

MRS. CORDELL HULL

When Washingtonians want to point out a typical southern lady of the gracious, graceful order they often name Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the secretary of state. She is a dark haired, dark-eyed woman who wears simple colors and styles but insists on exquisite fabrics . . . She prefers quiet hours in their large hotel apartment . . . or driving in the Virginia hills with "The Judge," as she calls her husband . . . But she fills her heavy round of social duties with poise. Ever since Mr. Hull first was elected to the house from Tennessee she has kept scrap books of everything written about him . . . even stories carried in South American papers . . . and [illegible] tends to [illegible]

Miss Edna Surtace, Wed To W. B. Lee At Church Today

MISS EDNA SURFACE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Surface of [illegible] Marion avenue, became the bride of William B. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lee of Dayton, formerly of Marion, in a ceremony solemnized this morning at 11 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church.

The bride walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, preceded by little Miss Barbara Hedges, ring bearer, and Miss Marian Warwick of Columbus, maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of heaven blue chiffon, shirred at the neck and with wide bands of the shirring finishing the long puffed sleeves. Her bridal cap of white crepe was trimmed with a halo of white maline and a shoulder length veil. The white lace handkerchief which she carried was carried by her paternal grandmother for her own wedding. Johanna Hill roses and gypsophila tied with a wide satin bow made up her bouquet.

Miss Warwick was in a floor length gown of dusty pink crepe fashioned on princess lines. She wore a large white hat and carried an arm bouquet of blue delphinium and pink roses tied with pink tulle.

Ring Carried in Lily

The flower girl was in white organza over pink satin. She carried the ring in a calla lily.

Wilbur Shenton and Dan Salter, the ushers, were with the wedding party at the altar.

Rev. Howard I. Olewiler, pastor, read the single ring ceremony before a company of relatives and friends. During the ceremony Miss Jeanette Freeman, Columbus organist, played "I Love You Truly" by Bond.

The altar was in green and white. Tall baskets of white daisies and white candles in tall candelabra shown against a background of greenery. Miss Mary Rohn in a yellow organza frock lighted the candles.

Before the ceremony Miss Freeman played a program of wedding music which included "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin and "At Dawning" by Cadman. She accompanied Mrs. Edward Trory of Middletown, who sang "O Promise Me." Miss Freeman played the Wagner and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

Wedding Breakfast

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. A bride's cake and white tapers tied with pink tulle decorated the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee left on a short trip, their destination unannounced. For traveling Mrs. Lee wore a navy blue dress with a short jacket and white accessories. After July 10 Mr. and Mrs. Lee will be at home at 319 Oak street in Dayton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lee were graduated from Harding High school with the class of '27. Mrs. Lee is a graduate of Wooster college where she was affiliated with Theta Chi Delta, national honorary chemical fraternity. For the last four years she has been a teacher of science at the Central Junior High school. Mr. Lee, who graduated from the Siebel Institute of Technology in Chicago, is associated with the Continental Baking Co. in Dayton.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Miss Freeman and Miss Warwick of Columbus, Mrs. Trory of Middletown, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Kaylor of Bellefontaine and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hicks of Dayton.

BEAUTICIAN HELPS NAB MAN IN HOLDUP

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., June 29—Police thanked Miss Theresa Shanzen, 28, operator of a beauty parlor, today for helping them catch one of two men who attempted to hold up the M. J. Grable Automobile Finance Co. Miss Shanzen saw the two robbers run from the office, exchanging shots with officers of the firm. When one of the gunmen hailed a cab, she followed in her car and finally caught the cab at a traffic light. She screamed and a policeman arrested the man.

Mine is not that problem. In fact I told myself with a wry smile my income from my work was [illegible] [illegible] negligible. Philip Veritzen had [illegible] me a [illegible] [illegible] payment for my play, with a generous royalty clause. But there could be no royalties on a play not yet produced, nor would there be any to composer for the libretto I was doing for Noel until his operetta reached the footlights and stayed there long enough to merit royalties.

The mysterious complex which appeared to be banishing every other interest from Philip Veritzen's life was responsible, I was sure, for his abrupt postponement of his son's operetta, and because of the postponements of my play and of those postponements I, for the present, faced no problem at all as far as my outside work went.

But I knew that the unwinding of the tangled skein was only delayed, and for that reason I craved the counsel of the man most fitted to give it to me.

$3 GEORGIA AUTO TAGS IRK CHICAGOAN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 29—What he termed Georgia's $3 mail order automobile state license tags so irked a Chicago municipal judge that today a drive against all automobiles in Chicago carrying Georgia tag was in prospect.

After having fined Maurice Mishel of Chicago, whose car carried a Georgia tag, $15 for having neither Illinois nor Chicago license tags when Mishel could not prove he ever had been in Georgia, Judge J. M. Braude commented:

"You can send $3 to Georgia through the mail and they will send you license plates and 10 applications to be given to your friends. Police should stop everyone they see with a Georgia license and make him prove his residence."

Nothing Changed

Ewing Mitchell's [illegible] attempt to get even with someone for his dismissal from one of the better seats at the new deal table was not a brilliant success. It gained nothing for Mr Mitchell but it did call attention to the department of commerce tersely described by one Washington correspondent as the new deal's chief citadel of favoritism and peanut politics. The department is on the spot.

Secretary Daniel Roper is a good politician. His function in the administration aside from living up to his reputation has been to soothe alarmed business men. Since that apparently is a discontinued policy he probably will spend the rest of his tenure in office playing the game he understands best. Though it never is startling to discover good politicians in high places it still remains interesting to the idealistic to watch them go through their routine. Perhaps had Mr Mitchell not been painted with the same colors he objected to in other members of the administration that disgruntled jobholder might have succeeded in changing something by raising his voice in protest. As it is he at least has called attention to the fact that the department of commerce is being run along the lines of good politics not good government.

By Way of Illustration

Parents trying to impress on children the danger of handling fireworks were given assistance Thursday by news of an accident injuring Earl Averill center fielder with the Cleveland Indians and an established baseball hero in the eyes of thousands of Ohio boys.

Averill was shooting firecrackers in the presence of his four sons. One failed to explode, the usual story. He picked it up and it exploded in his hand. His injuries if they do not jeopardize his baseball career at least will keep him from playing baseball for several weeks.

The Cleveland baseball club needs his services. Like every victim of a fireworks accident he undoubtedly is ashamed of his carelessness but that does not repair the damage. Possibly his accident will help a good many resentful children to understand why their parents look forward to the Fourth of July with almost as much apprehension as pleasure and breathe a sigh of relief when it has passed without leaving its mark on some member of the family. The holiday is infinitely safer and saner than it used to be thanks to legislation and common sense but there never can be a completely safe and sane Fourth as long as celebrants use explosives. Incidentally the Fourth of July falls on next Thursday, a point of interest to persons who have imagined from days and nights of fireworks that war was breaking out in their neighborhoods.

That's a Good Idea

The new deal has outdone itself in producing good ideas. It has not had conspicuous success however in making the good ideas work.

Eliminating the dole and substituting work relief for instance was a really brilliant idea. Yet as the first of July approaches and the work relief program remains stalled it is obvious some one did wishful thinking in making the promise that the dole would have disappeared by the beginning of the new fiscal year.

Further back in new deal history was the idea that by giving banks plenty of money to lend credits could be made to flow, thereby increasing business activity. [illegible] was something wrong with that too but it wasn't discovered [illegible] later when bankers pointed out that they couldn't find enough sound loans to make.

The [illegible] idea too but it has not come close to expectations. NRA was a good idea [illegible] failed because it tried to make [illegible] thing at once. One of the best ideas of all, economy, [illegible] came to economize President Roosevelt suddenly discovered [illegible] government dependents.

The latest of the good ideas is distribution of wealth by taxation. It sounds fine but already the men who [illegible] working out details are in a quandary which baffled a character [illegible] once upon a time. How can a pound of flesh be removed without [illegible]? Specifically how can the government confiscate $7,500,000 of a [illegible] without destroying values? President Roosevelt didn't give congress any plan for accomplishing what he believes it would be a good [illegible] progress!

That has been a [illegible] characteristic of many new deal [illegible]. The [illegible] seen the [illegible] which [illegible] being tabled [illegible] in entirety. One by one [illegible] and wiped [illegible] want of a [illegible]. Gradually [illegible] disposal into [illegible] raised with the [illegible] of its predecessors [illegible] than half baked. The [illegible] search for a little re[illegible] desir[illegible].

Proof for President Roosevelt

Deeply encouraged by President Roosevelt's [illegible] to conf[illegible] the punitive taxes [illegible] on a small minority of the citizenry [illegible] Americans. They see it [illegible] expression [illegible] of their social theories.

[illegible] declaring their [illegible] they could [illegible] also as proof [illegible] the government in the United [illegible] is proceeding from [illegible] the fore part of Mr Roosevelt's administration when dictatorship was perilously close to being adopted as the means of [illegible].

President Roosevelt's plan of redistributing wealth through heavy taxes on wealth is a liberal idea according to the popular definition. The means which he thought hastily and selfishly selected to transform his plan into legislation is not liberal by any definition. Fortunately he abandoned it on the first appearance of protest.

It was his purpose to appease certain radicals by declaring his plan of wealth taxation. When it became obvious the radicals were not going to be satisfied with a mere declaration he permitted himself to seem willing to coerce congress into enacting the plan without even a pretense of discussion or study.

It is that error which is the subject of this discussion. It is not charged that President Roosevelt is deliberately seeking to be a dictator. It is charged however that his executive policy too often fashioned for the needs of the moment with insufficient regard for the principle of democratic government is leading him and his thoughtless followers into a state of mind which would welcome dictatorship.

The source of dictatorial power is the consent which the majority of the governed give to its exercise. The gravest threat to maintenance of democratic principles in these times is the appearance of efficiency which dictatorship presents. People are attracted by proposals to the extent of thoughtlessly sacrificing their freedom in order to enjoy them. When the attraction has worn off they realize their mistake too late.

Thanks to the protests of a few alert citizens President Roosevelt was saved from the mistake of confiscating wealth by an edict shoved through congress. There has been no repudiation of his motive. There has been however a striking repudiation of the tactics he thoughtlessly adopted. It has been a demonstration that some Americans are still jealous of the rights of democratic government independently of the particular problems in which they are affected.

President Roosevelt should be first to appreciate what has happened. He has been shown the temper of the people. He knows that many of them could be persuaded easily to support a dictatorship if it made enough attractive promises. He knows that others are alert to this menace to democratic government. Having seen the pitfall he should be all the more easily to avoid it in the future.

Limitations

In response to a senate resolution Harry L Hopkins has replied to charges that things are not going smoothly in the Alaskan colony established as a relief project. Being a man of sense Mr Hopkins did not try to whitewash the situation. He admitted development of the colony was behind schedule but defended the general idea.

What can Mr Hopkins do from his office in Washington? He cannot fly to Alaska to build houses, he cannot change the Alaskan climate, he cannot change human nature and he cannot instill the pioneer spirit into a group of Americans who think of themselves as dependents not as settlers in a new territory.

He cannot even fall back on the old device of charging that the reds are stirring up trouble. The colonists were hand picked by relief workers. If any communists sneaked in no one can be blamed but Mr Hopkins' own representatives. Disappointment is justifiable. Criticism [illegible]. The colonists are dependent on the government.

They can't be blamed for that attitude. By every means available they have been encouraged to believe it is the government's duty to take care of them whether they happen to be in Minnesota or in Alaska. They were on relief before they signed up and they are on relief now—$[illegible]00 for each family. Their limitations are clearly defined. [illegible] never was the idea to imitate the Pilgrim fathers and pioneers. Paternalism [illegible] made that sort of thing archaic.

The loneliest and most deserted I ever felt was after stepping from a dinky train at San Luis Potosi in Mexico. It was a [illegible] across the sun baked plaza for a refreshing drink. The drowse of the siesta was on the city. The cafe was closed and I got back to the station as the train was rounding a bend. There wasn't a soul anywhere. I knocked on the door of a shuttered house and [illegible] green of wall paper in there an old viejo came mumbling and pointed to the sign at the door side. There was small pox inside. No train until midnight. It was my first and I hope last visit to hell.

That quality called eerie—and where is a more descriptive word—seems to settle and choke like stray pollen about a deserted apartment. There's an inclination to throw open the windows, turn on the radio, lights, anything with a current of activity. I have in succession phoned [illegible] Gen Crawley and George Buckley, all lively argle barglers of cheerful minutiae in moments of megrim. But they are away—likely to the beaches, woods or cool verandahs. The best bet on the radio is an organ concert. The tremolo of organs suggests gloomy cathedrals, sinners in [illegible] supplication, decay. I even walk out on the Crawfords.

Threading a trace of gloom this way violates the columnar credo. Be merry and bright. But many of us like to wallow in the morasses now and then. The British call it going wonky. Meredith Nicholson once wrote a marvelous essay on The Joy of Melancholia. The Gloomy Guess of the world get the breaks and back pats. The Pollyannas dredge only the jeers. Chaplin's fame rests not on his ridiculous monkey shines but on touches of pathos. Pagliacci is the most beloved clown. Ibsen is more highly bespoke than the farcical Hoyt. The most poignantly remembered line in all literature is Jesus Wept. The actor whose praises I always sing is the only one who ever made me sob out loud: William Faversham in The Squaw Man.

I find in spurts of indecision I turn instinctively to those of sombre attenuations. The only abuse I have ever suffered has been at the hands of the flippant—the wise cracker. The banker whose advice would have saved me much money and confidence in my fellows had I accepted it was a dour curmudgeon. In a robust clench of words he saw America riding hell for leather to disaster. He had no faith in banks that sold securities. He wore detachable cuffs, sat at a roll top desk and swept his luncheon apple parings into the top drawer. He was an apostle of calamity then and now. But he still has his riches.

My favorite street in all the world is avenue Henri Martin whither I once fled for eight months convalescence from second company nerves. Down its broad length from the Trocadero to the Bois run spreading heavily boughed chestnut trees. So heavy the sun rarely breaks through. Along the mall rustle the dead leaves of centuries. The stone buildings are always clammy dank. While I lived there the harvest of war was thick: widows' weeds, balcony wheel chairs, sightless men who tapped about brick walled gardens. I lived at No 22. Hardby is the Passy cemetery. I used to go there and sit by the crypt of Marie Bashkirtseff and try to read untranslated Voltaire. Our concierge was a hobbling deaf and screaming old [illegible]. Her husband sat in the entrance doorway with a disfiguring ailment. Yet I was happier there I believe I shall ever be again. The gloom entranced me.—(Copyright 1935 McNaught Syndicate)

Behind The News In
Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON June 28—A fresh crop of rumors has sprung up about President Roosevelt's health. These suggestions peep out every time the political technicians here note what they conceive to be a mistake by the White House. The President's press conference suggestion about a constitutional amendment started them several weeks ago. What revived them is the slip up on strategy of handling the new tax legislation.

The testimony of presidential physicians is almost worthless. They nearly always swear their patient is in fine fettle. But any observing person who has called on President Roosevelt during the last few days will testify that he looks well. He seems to be in relatively better physical condition than most congressmen who have shared the last six harrowing months of conflict and bickering.

Callers have noted that he is less patient, more irritable, quicker, less cautious. But that may also be said of nearly everyone else in Washington now that the mid summer heat has set in.

Relaxation

It is true the President has taken less rest this year. An early spring cruise and a few trips to Hyde Park furnished his only substantial relaxation. Nothing has been or can be planned for the summer. He wants to go to the San Diego exposition by train and return through the Panama Canal but cannot be away for anything like the Hawaiian cruise of last summer. There is too much work.

Excuse

The mixup on tax strategy is now being advertised as a misunderstanding of orders on the part of Mr Roosevelt's congressional leaders. This explanation has caused speculation about what happened to Mr Roosevelt's official liaison agent Charles H West, former Ohio congressman who is supposed to do nothing except keep Mr Roosevelt's congressional leaders advised as to his innermost thoughts.

The answer is that Mr West was just where he should have been. He was right on the job telling the congressmen daily what the President wanted.

What seems to have happened is that he did not want the same thing each day.

Archeology

President Roosevelt is digging up quietly a pile of data to prove his NRA contentions. One curio which his archeologists have unearthed is a report to the industrial commission appointed by President McKinley. It reported to Theodore Roosevelt in 190[illegible] recommending several steps along new deal lines.

One thing it urged was a graduated scale tax on corporations which is now contained in the wealth tax program. The advisability of federal incorporation laws was also mentioned and the commission referred sharply to competition among states to offer special privileges to corporations. The argument sounds exactly like the one Mr Roosevelt made at his congressional press conference.

The report even deplored the practice of large stores offering a particular article at prices below cost in order to attract customers—the loss leader practice which the NRA tried to stop. You will hear more about this in coming new deal speeches.

Mixing

President Roosevelt was reading the papers at Hyde Park one morning on his [illegible]. On page 1 he saw headlines: Industry Keeps Codes. On inside pages he noted specific items about wage cuts and hour changes. That led him to decide on an immediate committee to check [illegible]. Chairman O'Neil of NRA [illegible] men who [illegible] independent of NRA and [illegible] above [illegible]. [illegible] of the chem[illegible] was face service. An [illegible] thanks to Gen[illegible] Frie[illegible] two liberals were named—Father Haas of the Labor Advisory Board and Isador Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics. As counter counter irritants two moderates were chosen: Assistant Commerce Secretary Dickinson and NRAer John Lapp.

If the new deal really wants to balance the budget it could sell ringside seats for the meetings of the board and be assured of a larger audience than attended the Carnera Louis fight.

Graft

You cannot put anything over on Comptroller General McCarl.

A motion picture show which is operated for TVA workers at Norris Dam was stopped the other night when government auditors descended on it. They said they were from McCarl's office. They sent checkers through the audience while they went through the cash register.

Just as they suspected they found there were four more persons in the audience than dimes in the cash register. This will undoubtedly prove a graft feature in the current auditing feud between McCarl and TVA.

Note

The official TVA explanation is that the four free admissions were given to ushers in return for services rendered but McCarl does not know that yet.

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK June 29—As the Wheeler Rayburn bill comes down the home stretch utility men are worried about whether the house will stand hitched. The poll showing a clear majority against the holding company death sentence was accurate. But there's serious doubt whether it would still be accurate if Roosevelt turns on the heat for a record vote. Such procedure would be highly unpopular in congressional circles—but it might get results. Power leaders are almost sure they have the menace licked—but they'll be nervous until the shooting is over. They have no use for the President's economics but they know it isn't safe to count him as beaten politically until the numbers are up.

Some utility big timers are beginning to feel they made a mistake in strategy that may cost them dearly in the end. If we had had the sense we were born with we'd have let the bill go through in its original form. We should have objected to the whole thing in principle and called it a day. Then it would certainly have been upset in the courts before it had time to take serious effect and we'd have been out of the woods.

But no we had to mess around with modifications. We used our brains and our legal talent pointing out to congress where the bill was unconstitutional and giving them hints on how to fix it up. Result: we'll get a harassing hybrid that may stand up in court. True it won't be as bad as the original but it will be a nuisance. Maybe some day we'll learn to let well enough alone.

Own

O[illegible] had the highest percentage of [illegible] June 1[illegible] Rhode Island [illegible]. This [illegible] campaign against the holding company measure. In the [illegible] [illegible] holding company bill failed to assure the groups he mentioned. An officer of one of them says it's all very nice—but after all that's just the President's own interpretation—and who's to guarantee that the securities exchange commission would read such a charmingly vague law in the same light?

Taxes

New York's second thoughts on the President's plan to share-the-wealth by higher income and inheritance levies on large fortunes are surprisingly favorable. Even in Wall Street you find many sources admitting they can see no reasonable objection to cutting down oversized nest eggs—provided the capital levy is used to retire debt (as suggested by the President) and not for the government's current running expenses. They claim the latter would be as unsound as an individual spending his capital instead of living within his income.

But insiders doubt that the treasury would benefit much. Many rich men have anticipated some such move and have put their fortunes in such shape—by setting up trusts and funds of various sorts—that they would hardly be affected at all.

The graduated tax on corporations is another bowl of soup entirely. Big companies will put up a real fight on that. You will hear plenty about what such discrimination would do to wreck employment and purchasing power.

Defensive

The spectacular trapping of a former securities commission employe by J Edward Jones—oil royalty dealer—in the act of accepting a bribe was the curtain raiser for a drama in several acts directed by Mr Jones and designed to convince the public that the securities commission has not been worthy of its trust. Mr Jones is very much in earnest about his intention to put the commission out of business.

It's true that the culprit in this case was no longer connected with the commission. This is likely to be true also of other individuals who will be presented in an unfavorable light.

But the commission—while it may have a satisfactory explanation for every charge that is brought up—will be placed on the defensive with the public. And that's where Mr Jones intends to keep it.

Safety

New York learns that government agencies are considering adoption of a new safety device as standard equipment on trucks and cars bought by the government and to be required on trucks and buses in interstate commerce. The proposed truck and bus act requires the Interstate Commerce commission to see that safety mechanisms are installed.

The new device is said to keep the operator's foot on the brake instead of the accelerator so that in time the reaction to danger is instantaneous brake action and stoppage of gas.

Dull

Securities commission officials privately admit that—after all their trouble to compel complete registration statements—they have no evidence that any investors ever read them. It would seem that investors consider such [illegible] facts as something much too dull to bother about.

Sidelights

President Roosevelt's plan to use the inheritance taxes—if enacted—to [illegible] the national debt would [illegible] courage bond advocates. If [illegible] bonds retire a national debt they want to know what [illegible] invest [illegible]. [illegible] bankers expect a series of Canadian [illegible] to be floated in New York [illegible] fall. [illegible] Germany is known to have both a secret reserve and a secret debt—but foreign experts have been unable to learn how near they balance each other.

THREE DOUBLE BILLS ON STATE PROGRAM

Eight Pictures Booked By Theater For Next Week

Eight pictures have been selected for the State theater program for the week. There will be three double feature [illegible] for Sunday to Friday and another two feature bill on Saturday.

One of Myrna Loy's early pictures, Rogue of the Rio Grande, in which Raymond Hatton is featured and $20 a Week with Pauline Stark and Jane Murray, will be shown Sunday and Monday. Bryant Washburn, Gwen Lee and Andy Pierce are in the Starke Murray picture. The feature pictures Tuesday and Wednesday will be The Best Man Wins starring Jack Holt and Notorious [illegible] with Charles Bickford and [illegible]

[illegible] with Max Terhune [illegible] in a western [illegible] and Max [illegible] and Victor [illegible] handle the [illegible] roles in Mills of the Gods, which will be shown Thursday and Friday. 'CHASING YESTERDAY' BOOKED NEXT WEEK

Marion Theater To Show Six Pictures for Period Starting Sunday

One of the six pictures booked at the Marion for next week is Chasing Yesterday, which will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday with a return showing of Melody in Spring. Anne Shirley, who made such a lovable girl in Anne of Green Gables, and O. P. Heggie and Helen Westley, who played leading roles with her in that picture, are brought together in Chasing Yesterday. The picture was made from The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard, the novel which elected Anatole France to the French Academy and inaugurated a notable literary career. Anne Shirley is 16 years of age. She made her debut in 1922 in Wives of Men Marry, and in 1923 she was in 21 products. She was known then as Dawn O'Day.

The companion picture offers Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland, Ann Sothern and George Meeker in support of Lanny Ross.

Sunday and Monday the pictures will be Mystery Man with Robert Armstrong, who did such a fine job in G Men, Maxine Doyle, Henry Kolker and LeRoy Mason and a western picture, Ride Him Cowboy, with Ruth Hall and John Wayne. Mystery Man is a newspaper story. The last three days of the week offers another double feature bill, a return showing of Too Much Harmony and Wilderness Mail, made from James Oliver Curwood's novel. Kermit Maynard portrays two roles—that of a Royal Northwest Mounted police corporal who is foully tortured then cold bloodedly slain and his brother, a civilian, who exacts vengeance from his brother's assassins. Jack Oakie, Bing Crosby, Skeets Gallagher, Judith Allen and Harry Green are in the musical picture.

With victories Thursday and Friday the Erie Traffic club of the Commercial League stepped out in front of the league pace setters as the first week of the second half schedule was completed Friday

Twenty three games were played in five days as fair weather enabled a full week s schedule to be played for the first time this season Two doubleheaders and a postponed series aided in cleaning up part of the game postponed from the first half of the season s schedule

Game Forfeited

Pleasant Lutherans and K of P teams kept within striking distance of the leaders as the Pleasant team won a close battle from the Westinghouse Cubs 7 to 3 at Garfield park and the lodge team had one loss and a postponed tilt for its week s record The Elks K of P game at Lincoln park was postponed to prepare the diamond for the donkey ball game last night

Erie Traffic players won a forfeited game from the Eagles last night at Steam Shovel field when some of the Eagle aggregation failed to report An exhibition game was played with the Railroaders taking an easy 12 to 5 victory The Saratoga Grill club romped to an easy win over the Centennial Coal nine at President field 15 to 1

The Pleasant aggregation got away to a big start when Ken Somerlot second batsman in the first inning hit a home run after Lust had singled The Cubs attempted to even the count in their half of the first when Clark singled and came home on Bob Merchant s hefty triple Lefty Harper struck out leaving the runner stranded at third

Four hits including a double by Williams Pleasant second sacker produced two more runs in the second frame Selter Pleasant shortstop doubled in the next inning stole third and came home on a fly to the outfield Selter chalked up his second two base blow in the next inning scoring Almendinger who had singled and then came in with the last run as Williams hit a single his second blow in three trips to the plate Pleasant won both of its games from Cubs

Cubs Skid Hard

A walk to Clark and hits by Merchant and Conkle brought in two runs for the Cubs in the third The second loss in two nights for the Cubs dropped them below the 500 mark and seriously endangered their chances of finishing near the top

Sixteen Saratoga hits and five Centennial errors aided in producing a headache for the losers at South End park All but one Saratoga player connected for a hit Brittain Saratoga shortstop was credited with four hits including a double

Confusion Reigns As Donkeys Spill Players

Hockey Soft Compared to "Mule" Baseball, Second Big Laugh Tonight

Confusion Does [illegible] was 5-4 in favor of the Hamburger Inn team over the Saratoga Grill boys [illegible] from the [illegible]

And does any one have an official line up of the players or donkeys? Or is there a master mind who has [illegible] More than 500 fans roared and booed at last night s game at Lincoln park and went home wondering how much liniment the players would use

Two other teams can worry about the second and last donkey baseball games tonight at 8 at the same place with two strange teams trying to be serious with the nimble heeled bucking contrary donkeys

Second Tilt Tonight

Talking about rough games Ice hockey is an infant s pastime compared to donkey baseball If a player finally succeeds in mounting the donk its only a question of seconds till he s sprawling through the air—the player of course not the stolid animal

The Saratoga boys out last night were Joe Castner Don Conroy Pot Perkins William Brittain Lefty Lewi Lefty Everly

[illegible] Young Harold Callahan Jack Harle Manager Hilarious Van Oss [illegible] Goldfried Tom Strasser Lamar Laught and Leon Truman and fighting for the glory of dear old Hamburger Inn were Leroy Ingmier Harold Millisor Glen P Putnam William Ruppart Bill Everly Don Winters M [illegible] Porter Douglas Parker Victor Kunkle Elmer Noe Bill Tierny and Charles Noble

The most docile of the animals was Miss Marion always good for a home run Miss Marion had had the training of a blueblood and refused to perform in the ribald manner of Mae West who absolutely refused to be either coerced or coaxed to first base showing as pretty a pair of donkey heels to each and every player who attempted to mount

Max Baer Clowns

Max Baer the ex champ might have been too well reminded of his last fight if he d seen his name sake playing third base Max clowned all the way through preferring to garner laughs with his lazy habit of playing dead donk rather than getting into the game and doing his rider some good

The rules of the game guarantee a good show Only the pitcher catcher and batter are unmounted and as soon as the batter hits a fair ball he must mount a donkey and start for first—start If the donkey s willing and get there if the donkey doesn t make up a one cylinder mind to stroll into center field or way outside the baseline Fielders must touch the player with the ball to count for an out and neither the pitcher nor catcher may move outside the narrow confines of their elongated box

It was too funny to watch the fielders trying to urge slow motion donkeys after a hard hit ball and in the meantime try to keep track of just what was happening to the hitter—whether or not he had succeeded in mounting or mounted [illegible] as far as [illegible] [illegible] and I got off [illegible]

Players Back Out

[illegible] they [illegible] there were times [illegible] the game when it looked as if the game would have to stop for [illegible]

Put it over on and on for nearly two hours and it set has a gets at [illegible] 10 innings although [illegible] Marion Hinkle build [illegible] into the [illegible] Pink had more fun [illegible]

The most successful rider of the evening seemed to be Callahan who must have used terrified sweet words to cajole his donkey into performing so nicely He started off the game with a home run mounted on Miss Marion and made an enviable record as a rider

Some of the donkeys Dynamite Gracie Allen Bell Boop and Mae West in particular refused to be weighed down by riders Once or twice a hitter succeeded in staying on for a split second but throughout the game these four spilled riders right and left over their heads or any old way just to be contrary

Ornery Donks

Ornery donkeys they were and the players soon found it out Those animals brooked no nonsense and what s more the most of them didn t even give the players a good opportunity to try any funny business

Some of the donkeys would have liked it better if centerfield had afforded grazing facilities

One thing is still for the game no one but the donkeys had any idea of what was coming next Even the trainer who had to field at times when players pooped out must have been surprised at some of the maneuvers

Such a game impossible to keep track of but entertaining to watch and a sports novelty

NIGHT SOFTBALL TILTS ANNOUNCED

Night softball games for next week were announced late this morning by Elmer Shaw secretary of the softball commission

A firework display will be given with the night encounter Wednesday night at Lincoln park The game will bring together the Walters and Di bennett team and the Steam Shovel nine On Friday night the postponed Casco Silk Mill game is scheduled

In case of rain Wednesday night Mr Shaw announced the firework display will be held in connection with the Casco Weaver battle Friday night Both games are scheduled for 9 o clock

CINCINNATI ASSURED OF OHIO GOLF TITLE

Finalists To Give Queen City First State Crown in 16 Years

KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB CINCINNATI June 29—Nelson Ruddy and Neil Ransick of Cincinnati started their 36 hole quest of the Ohio amateur golf championship over this heartbreaking course today the former hoping that history would not repeat and the latter hoping that it would

The two Queen City stars Ruddy from Makatewah country club and Ransick from Hillcrest met two weeks ago in the finals for the Cincinnati championship with Ransick winning a close decision

Yesterday the pair eliminated the last of the other 30 qualifiers for the state crown and today they are at each other s throats again this time with a bigger goal at stake

Back in 1929 they made a bid for the state title—these two stars but both fell short Ruddy was the medalist that year while Ransick went to the finals only to lose to sharp shooting Johnny Florio of Columbus at Canton Brookside

The fact that two Cincinnatians reached the finals makes certain that the Queen City will be the home of the champion for the first time in 16 years Away back in 1913 DeWitt Balch won the title and then he repeated in 1919 but since then the crown has been spirited by upstaters

ROY HENSHAW, CUB ROOKIE, GIVES BUCS ONE HIT IN 8-0 WIN

Indians Hand Whitchead Eighth Straight Loss 6 to 5

By HUGH S FULLERTON JR
Associated Press Sports Writer

[illegible] Roy Henshaw the [illegible] of the Windy City high school [illegible] of Chicago has put a new aspect upon the pennant pretensions of the Chicago Cubs

Henshaw [illegible] on the Chicago staff was tinged with considerable uncertainty stepped out with one of the season s best flinging feats yesterday when he shut out the mighty Pittsburgh Pirates with a single hit a sixth inning double by Pitcher Mace Brown on which Freddie Lindstrom barely failed to make a shoestring catch The Cubs won the game 8 to 0 with an early attack upon Jim Weaver and Ralph Birkofer cut the Pirates margin to 11 games and the Cardinals to one but that was just a part of the tale

Aid to Mound Staff

The rise of Henshaw a first year man in the big time adds considerable strength to the rather shaky Cub mound department which has had Bill Lee and Tex Carleton as its most dependable members so far Friday s victory enabled the youngster to equal Carleton s record of five victories and three defeats and if he can keep it up he should be able to take some of the burden off Lefty Larry French and Lonnie Warneke who have not been winning their full share of games

The Cub triumph was timed just right to produce the fullest effect as both the Cardinals and Pirates suffered reverses while the Giants far ahead of the field and showing big difference in the games lost column had to go 10 tough innings to take an 11 to 7 decision from Brooklyn

The Cards ran into Paul Derringer on one of his best days and got only eight hits while Cincinnati pounded Jess Haines for a 4 to 2 victory The Giants after picking away at an early Dodger lead for eight innings finally caught up in the ninth when Hank Leiber belted his tenth homer to start a two run rally then blasted out four more in the tenth after Jim Bucher s error had paved the way

Paced by the brilliant Hank Greenberg the up and coming Detroit Tigers captured third place in the American League standing from Chicago taking two easy games from the Browns while the Sox dropped a tough one to Cleveland 8 to 5 Greenberg smashed three home runs two in the second game to bring his season s total to 23 Meanwhile Eldon Auker limited the Browns to four hits and Vic Sorrell making his first start of the season gave only six The victories were 10 to 1 and 7 to 2

Indians Win

Silent John Whitehead who won eight games in a row for Chicago earlier in the season must have found cause for words as he dropped his sixth straight since then giving the Indians the decision on a three run burst in the sixth and O D H Hale s homer in the eighth after the Hose had put on a four run rally to take the lead

With the eastern American league clubs all idle the day s only other game saw the Phillies down the Braves 4 to 2 when Dolph Camilli socked his fifteenth homer of the year in the tenth after a pinch four bagger by Ruper Thompson had tied it up in the ninth

Carpentero Win Features Outdoor Boxing Program

The boxing [illegible] of Cincinnati Lu Carpentero capered and slugged his way to a clean cut decision over Zike of Ft Wayne Ind last night in the eight round final of the open air boxing inaugural at the outdoor arena

Jumping in one direction and hitting from another the flashy veteran cut his taller foe terrifically in the eight fast rounds which climaxed a rather [illegible] card The little Filipino left no doubt as to the outcome and saved the show as far as a good sized crowd was concerned

Stumbo Defeated

Although taking heavy left and right jabs Zike held on gamely Several times he reached out with a long left and clipped the little fellow squarely on the chin but throughout the remainder of the scrap he took a heavy pounding In the fourth round they stood toe to toe and traded punches Zike was nearly two feet taller than his foe but Carpentero made up for his shortness by high leaps off the canvas

Most startling reversal on last night s card was the knockout administered Kid Stumbo young Marion fighter by Frankie Wheeler of Cincinnati The Queen City boxer looked the part every minute of the way winning by a knockout after 50 seconds of the fifth round

Wheeler as sweet a physically developed fighter as has shown here rocked Stumbo in nearly every round and partially closed his eye in the second The blond 140-pound boy blasted some powerful lefts into Stumbo s face and connected with a flashy short right jab The knockout punch was of this variety landing squarely under the chin

Quentin Walker fighting his first scrap after the Golden Gloves tourney won from Schoolboy Rowe by a technical kayo at the end of the first round Rowe injured his [illegible] hand in the first round

Fans [illegible] disappointed in the few contests when K O Muney of [illegible] and Jimmy [illegible] young Cuban from Cincinnati Both [illegible] of the others punches and provided little action

Mondue Easy Winner

Kid Mondue former Marion boy won an easy and short scrap from Joe Wolcott Mt Vernon Negro Mondue folded up Wolcott after a minute and a half of the second round He floored the Mt Vernon boy for a count of eight in the first Billie Wallace of Marion taller and longer armed won a decision from the game little Earl Underwood of Mt Vernon

In a curtain raiser two 125-pound youngsters traded punches without giving an inch of ground Wildcat Young found Dinky Davis blows too fast to match and lost a decision after three rounds of fast swinging

SOUTHERNERS VIE FOR GOLF TITLE

Millers Try To Build Up Lead, Columbus Club Wins Another

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 29—Donie Bush s Minneapolis Millers are taking full advantage of their familiar right field fence for home run purposes in an attempt to build up a safe lead over the American Association pack before they go east a week from tomorrow

Yesterday was no exception Trailing by 5 to 3 in the seventh inning Hauser Ganzel and Gaffke exploded home runs as the chief item which gave Minneapolis its second straight victory over Toledo 9 to 7

Indianapolis took a one game lead over Milwaukee in the tussle for second place by scoring five runs in the ninth to defeat the Brewers 11 to 9 Bluege Heath and Cooney contributed four hits each to the Indians 19 hit attack on La Master Larkin and Pressnell

Columbus also put on a big hitting exhibition to defeat St Paul 16 to 5 The Red Birds piled up 17 hits three each by Adams and Ogrodowski and concentrated most of their assault in the ninth when they rammed over eight runs Bob Klinger held the Saints in check until the eighth when he was clipped for five runs and Mike Ryba finished the game The Louisville Kansas City game was rained out

DIDRIKSON, HICKS LOSE IN TOURNEY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 29—The girls who made the Women s Western Open golf tournament safe for the amateurs Mrs Opal S Hill of Kansas City and Mrs S L Reinhardt of Chicago squared off today for the 36 hole title round of the event at the Sunset Ridge Country club

Today s finalists each a veteran of many tournaments crushed the hopes of the gallery for a wind up battle between the business women golfers Helen Hicks of Jewlett N Y and Mildred Babe Didrickson of Beaumont Tex yesterday Mrs Hill achieved something approaching an upset by escorting Miss Hicks to the sidelines by a 2 and 1 margin Mrs Reinhardt eliminated the Babe by the decisive score of 5 and 4

The defeats ended the only competitive play of the business women for the season as the tournament was the only one for which they were eligible

Tokyo Forces Accused of Provocative Invasion of Soviet Territory

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW June 29 Japanese and Manchukuan forces were accused of three new provocative invasions of Soviet territory today in official news agency dispatches. [illegible] cavalry and gun[illegible] which apparently participated were [illegible] clearly provocative aims at [illegible] in Tokyo [illegible] the official news agency.

Two Gunboats Advanced

A dispatch from Blagoveschensk on the Amur river said the latest [illegible] took place Tuesday when two Japanese Manchukuan [illegible] the Sungteng and the [illegible] entered a branch of [illegible] Soviet territory despite [illegible] Soviet frontier cutters to keep out.

While the gunboats passed the [illegible] their crews were training guns on the Soviet vessels the dispatches said and [illegible] took photographs of them. The Soviet vessels the dispatches said wishing to avoid a clash allowed the trespassers to proceed.

Other invasions took place near Khabarovsk June 23 and 26 it said. 40 infantrymen participated in the first incident and the same detachment was joined by 60 cavalrymen to carry out the second.

Entered Soviet Region

In each instance the troops dispatches asserted advanced several hundred meters into Soviet territory and occupied a hill and valley where they remained for hours making observations.

The dispatches said both invasions were witnessed by Soviet guards who had orders to avoid a conflict and hence did not open fire.

A Soviet demand that further border violations be prevented was presented in Tokyo June 11 following the alleged kidnaping of a Soviet trooper from Russian territory. It was not known here whether the Japanese answered the demand.

OFFICIALS DISCUSS HOSPITAL SYSTEM

tion could follow the groups suggestion if it so desired by including requirements in an ordinance creating the position that could be met only by a man trained in hospital management.

Seek To Avoid Changes

Among factors taken into consideration by the group in urging that a trained manager be sought was the possibility of changes in hospital managers every time the city administration changed if the safety director acted as manager. Each newly elected mayor selects his own safety director it was pointed out. It also was suggested by several persons that a man having the advantage of training and experience in hospital management might be obtained at approximately the same salary as a local man with the understanding that salary increases might be given later if the manager proved efficient and was able to effect savings.

A majority of those at the conference expressed favor of Mayor Bolin's suggestion that steps be taken to seek enactment of a law creating a hospital commission of three or five members to be elected by the people to take over supervision of the hospital. It was pointed out however that this might not be accomplished until the legislature meets in two years.

All emphasized the need of immediate action both in selection of a supervisor of nurses and a business manager.

Those present were Safety Director Sams Councilmen H T Bell Elmer Finch and G R Henney of the hospital committee Mrs T F Sonnanstine Mrs Ray R King Miss Geraldine Hord and Mrs Hector S Young representing the Women's hospital board Hector S Young Mrs Carl Leffler Dr F L Brady Dr R F Morgan and Mrs J T McNamara representing the hospital advisory committee.

TWO NEW YORKERS' BODIES FOUND BOUND

By The Associated Press

PORT CHESTER N Y June 29—A body identified by police as that of Joseph Goodglass president of the Hydrox Linen & Supply Co of New York City was found today tightly bound in the waters of Long Island sound near here.

The circumstances were identical with those involved in the finding this morning of a body reported to be that of Arthur M Collins Jr in the pool of Blythewood sanitarium at Greenwich three miles away where he was a patient.

Both bodies were tightly bound with rope about the ankles and thighs. Goodglass arms were also bound.

CINCINNATI AMATEUR LEADS GOLF MATCH

By The Associated Press

KENWOOD COUNTRY CLUB CINCINNATI June 29 Neil Ransick was 2 up on Nelson Rudis at the end of 18 holes in the 36-hole all Cincinnati finals for the Ohio amateur golf championship here today.

Ransick amateur champion of the Queen City hit the turn one up and then breezed through the last nine in even par 35 to add another hole at the halfway mark. The leader had a 74 three over par for the 18 holes while Rudis needed 76 strokes for the distance.

Perfect School Girl Found Murdered After Attack in New York State

By The Associated Press

GREENVILLE [illegible] June 29 Detectives of the crack state Scotland Yard detail joined today in the search for the slayer of Helen Glenn nine year old victim of a brutal attack and murder. She was recently adjudged the perfect school girl for her attendance record.

Members of the yard new anti-crime unit of the state police were reported to have at least one man under surveillance but they refused any information.

The girl's body was found in a lonely marsh yesterday two days after she disappeared from her home. She had been stabbed with a thin bladed knife which penetrated her body to the backbone and Coroner M I Atkinson said she had been perversely attacked.

Helen's father Rev Henry Glenn hearing of his daughter's death exclaimed

Somebody near Greenville is suspected of attacking and killing my child

County police said Helen apparently had been murdered shortly after she disappeared from the Greenville street corner where she was last seen and her body carried by automobile to the lonely spot where it was found. Automobile tire tracks led to an overgrown lumber road near where searchers discovered the body.

FERRIS HUNTED AS MURDER SUSPECT

was last seen alive in Haymarket barbecue operated by Carl C Oglesbee a Dearborn councilman.

Oglesbee identified Dickinson's body as that of the man who came into his place about 1 a m Thursday with two other men and ordered a half a shot of the best liquor in the house.

The Oglesbee barbecue is only a short distance from the territory where Dickinson's body was found and where his coat vest and hat were later picked up. The identity of his two companions at the time is still a mystery. Oglesbee did not identify a picture of Ferris as being one of Dickinson's companions.

Frahm Doubts Story

Frahm expressed belief tonight however that Dickinson was not at Oglesbee's tavern. He said

We have reason to think he was elsewhere at that time

Frahm described Ferris as a hotel habitue who makes a practice of developing acquaintanceships.

Police have been able to trace the attorney's movements to 9 p m Wednesday night when he finished a hurried dinner at his hotel.

SCHOOL STADIUM PLANS APPROVED

90 days Mr Nesper explained he will augment the corps of 75 workers as work progresses and if necessary he will work double shifts and at night. Nesper will supervise the erection of the stadium and Charles Williams of Commercial street will have charge of the corps of workers. Mr Williams has been supervisor on the project remodeling the old Lincoln school building on South Prospect street into a school administration building.

The field house to be built under the stadium will be erected later at an estimated cost of $4 000 of which $2 500 will be labor costs Mr Nesper said.

The athletic field was completed and seeded early this spring under an FERA project. The stadium will be erected on the west side of the field. It is to be of concrete reinforced by steel and is designed to seat 1 337 people in the three sections in which the seating capacity is divided. It will be built in such a way that it will be possible in the future to build additional sections seating 433 each on either end without marring the symmetry of the structure. The main unit will be labeled seating section A. On the east side of the field wooden bleachers will be erected seating about 1 200.

Mr Nesper and School Superintendent Hudson have stressed the desirability of adding two more sections B and C to the main structure in the future or in the original plans. Each section would seat 433 persons giving the stadium a total seating capacity of 2 203. This would care for the large crowds expected at athletic and civic events as a result of the erection of a modern stadium. The project should become self liquidating within a reasonable length of time they pointed out.

Plans To Raise Funds

The board of education is not in position to assume the expense of the two additional sections Mr Hudson said and the only possibility of financing them would be to have civic organizations take an interest in the proposal and devise a plan to raise the needed funds. The approximate cost of each additional section would be $1 000 Mr Nesper estimated. Civic clubs interested in the proposal are urged to get in touch with Mr Hudson or the FERA works division immediately.

Detailed plans for the stadium were drawn by the Osborn Engineering Co of Cleveland the firm which has been engaged to develop all plans details and specifications and furnish periodical supervision on the stadium project.

Materials will be purchased by the board of education and when Mr Nesper is ready for them bids on concrete steel and other needed material will be asked Mr Hudson said.

While the erection of a stadium has been under consideration several years the idea did not gain impetus until last fall. The project has been carried to its present status largely through the efforts of Mr Hilton and Mr Nesper. C K Southard Nesper's predecessor also contributed a great deal of time and effort to the plans and progress. Preliminary plans and sketches illustrating the stadium were submitted by Thomas Rayburn Marion architect.

Members of the board of education who approved the stadium project were Harry J Barnhart president F C Gecenheimer clerk H I Albrecht and Don A Howard. Dr F L Thomas the other member is out of the city.

be used for demonstration and practice work. The room is equipped with twin beds a baby's bassinette a large composition doll for demonstrations in infant care and other equipment. Other merchants will be contacted to contribute other needed accessories.

The course will be divided into three groups as follows group one for all girls who were members of the seventh eighth and ninth grades in the public and parochial schools last school year group two for girls who were members of the sophomore junior and senior classes in high schools last school year including this year's graduates group three for all women not included in the other two groups.

For this work in home hygiene and care of the sick the American Red Cross has set a standard and certificates will be awarded to those students who have achieved the standard when they have completed the course. A final test probably will be given to determine the issuance of Red Cross certificates. Mr Lister said Miss Lillian Pinck executive secretary of the Marion county Red Cross assisted in obtaining American Red Cross indorsement of an instructor and the emergency school set up.

Course Is Practical

The course offered group one is intended to prepare the girls of junior high school age to assist intelligently in the daily duties in the home in the care of younger brothers and sisters and in the care of ill members of the family. It gives also an understanding and appreciation of the need to guard and maintain health creates an interest in working for betterment in civic conditions offers a means of becoming acquainted with future responsibilities as home makers and provides an opportunity for vocational guidance in choosing the profession of nursing or allied subjects.

The course for the other two groups is more advanced and is intended to provide to all adult groups the simple safe and effective means of meeting the many special problems in sickness and the emergencies which may arise in any home. It also stresses proper care of infants and children.

All girls and women interested in enrolling in the courses for which no charge of any kind is made are urged to fill in the blanks immediately and bring them to Mr Mills office Monday or Tuesday. Arrangements for class hours and size will be made after Tuesday. Additional registration blanks may be obtained from Mr Lister.

Textbooks used will be the American Red Cross publications.

Registration blanks appear below.

Everything has been settled to my satisfaction the bounding basque said and I have been assured that Poulain never meant that I was a poor sport.

CONCENTRATED FIGHT STARTS AGAINST AAA

Packers Millers and Cotton Manufacturers Open Barrage on Taxes

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 29—Packers and millers of the food industry joined cotton manufacturers today in a rebellion against the processing taxes of the administration's agricultural adjustment act.

A survey showed some 35 packing houses had filed petitions for injunctions to restrain collection of the hog processing tax with the next installment due on July 1.

General Mills Inc with headquarters in Minneapolis joined the attack by filing a similar suit in Buffalo N Y seeking to restrain collection of the federal wheat processing tax.

The packers were reluctant to discuss the suits but it was explained that they are intended to lift the tax until the supreme court rules on the validity of the AAA. Privately attorneys for the Chicago packers have been predicting a defeat for AAA since the court's NRA ruling.

Many of the injunction proceedings are scheduled for hearing Monday and a victory for the processors would tie up taxes totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars although the big Chicago packers who pay $250 000 a week do not figure in the fight.

Three Killed Near Columbus

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 29 — Three persons were killed and another was injured severely early today when two automobiles collided on state route 31 two miles southeast of here. The dead

Miss Frances Laflin about 25 nurse at the Franklin County home Clarence Uhl about 40 of Lancaster Clarence Ressley 31 of Lancaster.

The injured person was Dr Joseph Maxwell about 25 an interne at the county home.

County police said Miss Laflin was riding in a car driven by Dr Maxwell.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a m. Deputy Sheriff Smitty Wilson said that while there were no witnesses aside from Dr Maxwell the automobiles apparently came together almost head on at an intersection.

Uhl and Ressley were riding in a roadster and Dr Maxwell and Miss Laflin in a sedan. The officer said one of the occupants of the roadster was pinned in the wreckage and the body of the other was thrown onto the highway.

Miss Laflin's body was wedged in the wreckage of the sedan but Dr Maxwell was able to crawl out. The interne received severe lacerations of the face and an arm and suffered from shock.

Coroner Edward E Smith began an investigation and planned to question Dr Maxwell later in the day.

GUARDS HOLD PLANT AFTER STRIKE FIGHT

Bullets Fly in Fray at Smelting Company Operations in Kansas

By The Associated Press

GALENA Kas June 29 — Twenty eight guards nonchalantly held the Eagle Picher Mining & Smelting Co plant here today after wearing down approximately 100 striking lead and zinc miners or sympathizers who got tired I guess of shooting at them.

From the plant office where 12 of the guards spent the night one of them said by telephone in a lazy drawl that all was well and none had been injured.

They haven't shot at us since shortly before midnight he said. They got tired I guess or ran out of bullets.

About the same time national guard troops who had vacated the arena only 24 hours earlier returned to Pittsburg Kas and prepared to move on Galena during the morning.

Armed with clubs and pistols the strike sympathizers yesterday had injured a dozen persons one of them by pistol fire as they blocked a reopening of the plant which had been closed since a walkout May 8.

After darkness fell a force of 75 to 100 men moved close to the wooden office structure and barricaded behind mine cars began firing regular volleys of rifle and pistol bullets at the guards.

About dusk food was sent into the plant by parcel post. The howling rioting group outside dared not molest the U S mail.

No shots were fired from the plant the guard explaining they were afraid they would hit passing motorists on a nearby federal highway.

No attempt was made to rush the plant.

They won't do that commented the guard. We're armed and they know we're ready for them.

PEIPING REBELLION DEFINITELY SUBDUED

Mutineers Repulsed as New Forces Reach City; Normal Situation Resumed.

By The Associated Press

PEIPING China June 29—Additional reinforcements of the Chinese army arrived today as Peiping returned to normal with a rebellion of troops apparently definitely smashed by loyal soldiers.

The mutineers had disappeared and gates of the historic walls surrounding Peiping were opened once again. Police maintained strict patrols and at night no one was allowed on the streets.

Vernacular newspapers said government troops had encountered 30 mutineers in the vicinity of Fengtai. The regulars killed five of the rebels and captured three the remainder escaping.

At the United States embassy two American secretaries Cecil Lyon and Paul Meyer were lauded as heroes for bringing a group of American and other foreigners marooned outside the walls into the city during the shooting early yesterday.

Both insisted however that they merely had persuaded Chinese troops to open the gates and permit them to round up foreigners and escort them into the city.

Rebels were reported fleeing in the direction of the demilitarized zone of northern China. The mutineers were under the command of Gen Tsai who was ousted from Hopei province at Japan's order.

Author of School Law Speaks Here On Measure

Foundation Program and Other Educational Legislation Explained by Dr. B. A. Stevens

Marion county and [illegible] school officials and teachers heard Dr B A Stevens [illegible] of research for the Ohio Education association of Columbus [illegible] author of the Traxler-Kiefer-Matthews bill [illegible] provide $45,000,000 [illegible] state guarantee [illegible] to public schools at the Central [illegible] High school auditorium last night Dr Stevens who [illegible] be known as the school foundation program which was passed at the last session of the legislature and signed by Gov Martin L Davey June 12

Dr Stevens also spoke briefly on other legislation [illegible] concerned with school bus transportation certification of teachers sales tax revenue for schools and free text books

He pointed out that the Traxler-Kiefer-Matthews act provides for a flat distribution of funds to all public schools regardless of local tax rates on a basis of 180 days of school amounting to $[illegible] for each elementary pupil $45.00 for each high school pupil and $15.30 for each kindergarten pupil five years of age or more

Must Be Supplemented

[illegible] are not sufficient to maintain a minimum standard of education he said and must be supplemented by local revenues in all school districts and in the weaker districts by equalization in the form of additional aid from the state This uniform distribution gives to every school district in the state a guaranteed share in the available state funds to which by virtue of the uniform collection of these funds throughout the state they have a just right he added This flat distribution is made to every school district in the state without any stipulation as to local tax rate The act is designed to equalize educational advantages throughout the state

Dr Stevens suggested since the maximum participation in the funds under law is fixed at 180 teaching days that school boards operating below that number of school days meet and pass resolutions to operate 180 days in 1936 The foundation act takes effect on Jan 1 1936 It is not yet known whether legal holidays will be included in the 180 school-day minimum Dr Stevens said This will be determined when a new director of education takes office this year

Salary Provisions

He also stressed that the only provision under the foundation program is that at least 70 per cent of teaching salaries come out of the foundation funds However this will not require any salary cuts he added

Dr Stevens pointed out that in addition to the minimum operating cost of a foundation program school districts also will receive an amount for transportation of pupils in districts where this is provided

He also explained that schools that have tuition pupils from other districts shall receive a definite amount for each pupil and that the amount would be collected for them from the other districts by the state The amount of tuition will be based upon the actual net cost of operating the high school here divided by the number of average daily attendance of all pupils Dr Stevens said He explained that this method would eliminate the practice of high schools overcharging boards in other districts for tuition

In closing his general explanation of the Traxler-Kiefer-Matthews act Dr Stevens stressed that no school district wherein the total of the annual salaries paid the teachers of the district is less than 70 per cent of the total cost of the foundation program for that district exclusive of transportation and tuition costs shall participate in any portion of the state public school fund

It is important that the salary provision of the bill be given careful consideration in contracting with teachers for next year he said

Dr Stevens did not discuss the amendments to the act contained in sections Nos 7600 to 7600-9 which deal with the reorganization of school districts and concentration of centralized schools Marion county has a well organized centralized school system he said and the amendments do not affect it to any great extent

Aim at Good Program

The entire foundation program is designed so that every school district in the state will have a good program at no more than three mill cost to local taxpayers Dr Stevens said

Dr Stevens pointed out the three main provisions of the law regulating school bus transportation They are as follows (1) No one can drive school buses in the future but adults 21 years of age or older This forces discontinuance of the use of high school boys as bus drivers (2) The law removes all requirements of qualifications except one—drivers must pass a physical examination by physicians selected by the school superintendent (3) The law removes all requirements for a license fee for permits

This law was put through the legislature [illegible] on the [illegible] that it will remove a license fees for school buses he explained If some drivers under the age [illegible] are already hired probably some adjustment will have to be made depending upon a ruling by the attorney general He probably would declare any such contracts invalid [illegible] be sure in the first place a legal contract cannot be made with a minor Dr Stevens said in answer to a question from the audience

Certification of Teachers

He spoke briefly on the law providing that all certification of teachers after Aug 31 will be made through the state department of education In the past in many cases certificates have been issued locally by boards of education However this new law will not affect any present certificates issued under the old system he explained Those who now hold certificates may apply to the department of education for the new type if they wish

In speaking on the school revenue from the state sales tax Dr Stevens asserted that it would not reach the amount estimated by the state tax commission It was estimated that it would amount to about $5 a pupil during the last five months he said but it has brought about $3 a pupil Sales tax revenue for the last half of this year has been estimated to reach $18.75 a pupil

The law passed at the last session of the legislature permits boards of education to borrow against uncollected sales tax and pay their bills for the first half of this year he pointed out

Since the last half collections will be much greater than the first half of the year schools can borrow against the last half to pay their first half bills and will still have plenty of revenue left he explained

He spoke briefly on the free text book law explaining that it provides for a gradual introduction of free books into the public schools However there is no way of enforcing this law and I doubt if it will mean much in the long run he said

D T Mills county superintendent of schools who called the meeting to hear Dr Stevens presided as chairman and introduced the speaker Visiting officials were present from nearby counties

Milwaukee Beer Guzzlers Start Contest Tonight

100 To Line Up Before Foaming Cans of Brew for Drinking Honors

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE June 29 Here in a city where veal cutlets are wiener schnitzel and meatballs are koenigsberger klops 100 hitherto unknowns stood today on the threshold of fame as beer guzzlers

They had won no Nobel prizes had flown across no oceans Their art or science was the commonplace one of drinking beer—a beverage to some but a liqueur to those who enjoy schnitzel and klops

Tonight at 10:30 p m they will line up before half gallon cans of the foaming brew to decide which shall become eligible to vie for immortality as the city's first beer drinking champion in terms of speed

When the Fond Du Lac Avenue Advancement association seeking something new in the line of advancement decided on the contest its designers envisioned a battle royal with eight or 10 persons grating their teeth against the metallic edge of a pail

A heavy flow of entries gave the Gambrinian festival more of an Olympic aspect and the promoters decided to run the meet in heats despite a protest received by George Walter Jr association secretary from the W C T U

From the 100 big little fat thin young and old men and women 18 qualifiers will be selected tonight The 18 tomorrow afternoon will meet at a suburban picnic park there to hew to the brew letting the suds fall where they may

LAW AFFECTS AUTO DRIVERS

New State Liability Statute Covering Accidents Is Effective Aug 20

Motorists [illegible] and all Ohio who [illegible] the 20 days to [illegible] any judgment [illegible] obtained against them as a result of an [illegible] accident [illegible] injury [illegible] property [illegible] drive [illegible] in Ohio [illegible]

[illegible]

On [illegible] registration rights are taken away under this law [illegible] to drive [illegible] to register [illegible] vehicle shall not be restored until the judgment has been satisfied or until the person has furnished satisfactory [illegible] of financial ability to pay damages that might result from any future automobile accident.

Persons can prove their financial responsibility by (1) depositing $11,000 with the registrar of Ohio motor vehicles (2) by filing an acceptable surety bond in the amount of $11,000 or (3) by carrying a policy with an authorized company protecting other persons up to $5,000 in the case of death or injury to one person or $10,000 in the case of death or injury to more than one person injured in the same accident (subject to the limit of $5,000 a person) and up to $1,000 in the case of damage to the property of others.

Under this law any judgment shall be considered satisfied if paid in full or in cases of large judgments if $5,000 is paid in case of death or injury of one person or $10,000 in case of death or injury of more than one or $1,000 in case of damage to property. The law however does not limit judgments in cases growing out of automobile accidents to those figures.

The law applies not only to residents of Ohio but to non residents as well. Furthermore it is effective as regards Ohio motorists wherever the accident may occur or resultant suit be brought. Immediately upon receipt of any such final judgment rendered by any court of competent jurisdiction anywhere in the United States or Canada the registrar of motor vehicles of Ohio shall immediately suspend the defendant's right to drive in Ohio.

Sponsors of the law say it will help to make more certain the payment of damages to innocent victims of motor car accidents and tend to make all motorists operate with greater regard for lives, limbs and property.

Pensions Reduce County's Blind Relief Expense

List Reduced Nearly One Half as Commissioners Hold Investigation

Marion county's indigent blind relief list is reduced by a margin of nearly 25 per cent as a result of Ohio's old age pension law which the county commissioners this week held their annual investigation of all cases in which blind relief is given.

The number of persons placed on the revised list to receive allowances [illegible] from all [illegible] to [illegible] months is [illegible], a reduction of 12 from the previous total of 9[illegible]. Of the 12 names taken from the list seven are getting old age pensions and 1[illegible] others are eligible for pensions. Those found eligible for pensions were removed from the list because it was explained they have had a year time in which to make application.

Two other persons stricken from the list failed to report at the commissioners office for the annual investigation. Some of them may be reinstated if they report later. Six others were investigated and deemed ineligible for indigent blind relief. One was taken from the list because an operation restored sight.

None of the blind relief allowances for persons remaining on the list was reduced and four were increased. Three persons formerly receiving $15 a quarter on the old list were allowed $30 a quarter and one formerly receiving $25 a quarter was advanced to $27.50.

Reduction in the blind relief payments was not a surprise to the commissioners who in preparing the annual appropriations at the first of the year set aside $6,000 for that purpose as compared with $8,500 in 1931, pointing out at that time old age pensions would replace blind relief allowance for a number of persons.

Presidential Order Permitting Return of Political Exiles Expected Soon

(Copyright 193[illegible])
By The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY July 1 — A presidential order permitting political exiles to return arose as the prospective outcome of the first meeting today between President Lazaro Cardenas and his new cabinet

A proposal for revision of the article of the constitution making socialistic education compulsory also might come before the ministry it was reported

Reliable sources said President Cardenas already has drawn up and signed an order instructing the federal attorney general and the department of military justice to outlaw all charges of rebellion still standing

Exiles Could Return

This would mean that a majority of those in exile in the United States and elsewhere would be able to return—among them Monsignor Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores papal delegate now in San Antonio Texas and at least five bishops who have been expelled in recent years

Former President Adolfo De La Huerta now a singing teacher in Los Angeles and two former presidential candidates Jose Vasconcelos and Gilberto Valenzuela also would be permitted to return

Representatives of Vasconcelos asserted however that he would refuse to come back maintaining that he was elected president in 19[illegible]

There was still no official information that the government intended to modify its policies toward the church or to change the socialistic education law although unofficial sources predicted a general relaxation of the anti-church attitude

Reliable sources said private schools would be permitted to reopen but that they would be compelled to follow the course of study outlined by the government in line with its new socialistic teachings

Part of Revolution

The anti-church campaign was an important part of the revolutionary program especially during the presidency and strong man rule of Gen Plutarco Elias Calles who withdrew recently after a political conflict with President Cardenas over economic policies

The campaign reached its height while Calles was president in 1926 and came to a crisis last year when the red shirts of Tomas Garrido Canabal instituted an open drive again Catholics

More than 30 priests were killed and officials of at least 12 states closed all churches and expelled priests but the campaign died down after last March

The Associated Press reported eight persons killed in accidents in Ohio over the week end

Three Hurt as Car Crashes into Truck

Stephen Chizmar his wife Mary and 11-year-old son Louis of 361 Davids street were severely injured Saturday night about 9:1[illegible] o'clock when the Chizmar automobile crashed into a truck and trailer at the Ward Transportation Co building of Davids street Another son Joseph 14 was uninjured The automobile was demolished

The Chizmars were taken to the City hospital Mrs Chizmar suffered bruises about the chest side and face Louis suffered cuts about the face and neck and a severe shock Mr Chizmar was treated for cuts and bruises about the face and head

The accident occurred as the Chizmar automobile traveling south on Davids street swerved to avoid a collision with an unidentified northbound car and side swiped the truck and trailer which was parked at a gasoline pump just south of the Ward building The right rear door of the Chizmar car hooked the left corner of the truck The door was torn off and the side of the automobile caved in the car traveling approximately 26[illegible] feet before Chizmar was able to bring it to a stop Service men at the McDaniel Motor Co where it was taken said the car is a total loss

According to the police report made by Acting Night Capt Ora DeWees who with Patrolman Homer Osmun investigated the accident the trailer part of the truck combination was protruding into the street into the southbound traffic lane The driver of the truck Harold A Cause 30 of Bowling Green was released to appear today at the police investigation of the accident

The injured persons were taken to the City hospital in a W C Boyd ambulance and in an automobile driven by a Mr Jones of Henry street

An eyewitness reported to police that there were 11 red lights and lanterns burning on the rear of the trailer

Year Ago President Expected It Would Reach $31 000 000 000 Mark

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 1 — The federal government started a new fiscal year today figuring on spending $8,520,000,000 of which $4,582,000,000 would be used for recovery and relief

The estimates of President Roosevelt's He expects the treasury to collect $3,991,000,000 That would mean a deficit of $4,528,000,000 for the year

The public debt as the 1935 fiscal year ended last night amounted to more than $28,665,000,000 It had not however reached the $31,000,000,000 total the President figured on more than a year ago

May Set Spending Record

Should the government spend $8,520,000,000 this year a peacetime record for a single year would be established It would jump above the peak set last year which was more than $7,258,217,000

In financing this huge outlay Mr Roosevelt counted in part on extension of the $500,000,000 of nuisance taxes which were voted by congress last week No other taxes were contemplated when he submitted his budget message in January Since then however he has asked for new taxes on wealth

The plan is to push the tax the wealth levies through by late August if possible Just what these will produce in revenue is not certain because the rates—on inheritances gifts corporate and individual incomes have not been decided In an outline proposed by Chairman Harrison Democrat of Mississippi of the senate finance committee it was estimated the taxes would amount to $340,000,000 annually

Not Up to Estimates

Government spending despite the great outlays has not come up to presidential estimates Mr Roosevelt in shaping budgetary plans for the last fiscal year figured on putting out $8,581,000,000 for relief and new deal programs the actual expenditure thus far the books have not been finally totaled runs to $7,2[illegible]8,217,000 He expected a deficit of $4,8[illegible],000 The latest figure shows a deficit of $7,412,347,000

On the basis of the 1936 budget the national debt on next July 1 would total $34,234,000,000 Officials however said they doubted this peak would be reached A part of this debt will include the $4,880,000,000 Mr Roosevelt has set aside for relief and for the employment of 3,500,000 idle

VOTE 216-146 AGAINST PLAN

Administration Leaders Claim Better Showing Had Record Been Kept

SENATE INITIATED MOVE

Provides for Death of Firms Which Securities Commission Deems Unnecessary

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 1 — President Roosevelt's request for legislation to abolish unnecessary utility holding companies by 1942 was turned down today by the house

The vote was 216 to 146 against the President's wishes

Climaxing one of the most bitter legislative disputes in recent years the vote was attained for the rejection of the President's proposal [illegible] over the house

It was not a straight roll call test however as no roll call vote was taken Administration supporters contended more votes for the President would have been obtained if a record had been kept

Vote on Senate Provision

The vote was on whether to adopt the senate provision to eliminate in seven years holding companies considered by the securities commission to be unnecessary

That carried in the senate by a one vote margin The house interstate commerce committee voted instead to give the securities commission discretionary authority

After final passage of the bill the fight over the death sentence provision will be transferred to a conference committee to adjust differences between the senate and the house

There it may either be rejected or retained

Observers kept close watch on the contest to assay its effect on President Roosevelt's control over congress and on the 1936 campaign The President has taken a direct hand in the fight to save the death sentence from defeat and the White House has hinted that if the provision should lose Mr Roosevelt would veto the holding company bill and seek to make the power issue a leading point in the 1936 campaign

The senate by a margin of one vote had approved a provision calling for the mandatory abolition by 1942 of holding companies which the government should declare unnecessary When the bill emerged from the house commerce committee by a vote of 15 to 7 that provision had been modified Under the alteration the question whether a company should be abolished would be left to the discretion of the securities and exchange commission with which the concerns would have to register by Nov 1

The Roosevelt administration forces have been training their energies on a drive to have the house substitute the provision of the senate bill for the one approved by the house committee Rep Eicher Democrat of Iowa drafted an amendment for that purpose

The fight has been marked by charges and counter-charges of unprecedented lobbying and propaganda Last week the President attacked what he termed the power lobby as the most daring in history He accused it of spreading false propaganda Hugh S Magill president of the American Federation of Utility Investors replied that the President had set up "a five billion dollar White House

BILL PUSHED AFTER COAL STRIKE DELAY

Lewis Again Postpones Walkout as Backers of Guffey Plan Demand Action

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON July 1 With a strike call to bituminous coal miners postponed for another 30 days backers of the Guffey bill devoted themselves today to obtaining quick action on this measure to regulate the industry with a little NRA.

The bill is expected to emerge from the house ways and means committee some time this week. Sen Guffey Democrat of Pennsylvania said that as soon as the house takes action he will call the bill up for debate in the senate.

John L Lewis president of the union called off a strike scheduled for this morning. Lewis had issued the strike call Saturday but when the government intervened he postponed it 30 days offering to extend present wages and hours for that period.

Though the operators have not yet accepted this truce persons familiar with the industry predicted they would do so.

FERRIS ADMITS HE KILLED HUGHES KIN

that robbery was not the motive. The police had said previously they were informed Dickinson carried a large sum of money.

Not Convinced of Robbery

Although police were inclined to accept robbery as a motive Prosecutor Duncan C McCrea declared he was not convinced that theory was correct.

Ferris' account of his meeting with the New York attorney and the tour of hotels and taverns which he said preceded the slaying was made public by Detective Chief Frahm.

"Sweitzer or Ferris" said Frahm "told us he went to his hotel room about 9:30 Wednesday night and found the Jackson girls and Jean Miller there with Dickinson. They got two bottles of whisky finished one and part of the other and then started out to a beer garden on the west side.

"Loretta Jackson rode in the front seat with Ferris. Her sister and Jean Miller were in the back with Dickinson," Ferris told us.

"At a dark spot on the lonely park road Ferris stopped the car and the three girls got out."

Everybody Out

As he stopped the car Ferris said he called "everybody out."

"What's this all about?" Frahm said Ferris quoted Dickinson as demanding as he reached for a gun.

Ferris according to Frahm's account then heard a shot became excited and seizing the gun shot Dickinson twice more.

In another account of the shooting Frahm said Ferris explained he and Dickinson were rolling dice in the back of the car when the attorney produced a gun and demanded "come on pay up." In this account Frahm said Ferris claimed he shot the attorney in self defense.

Talk of Shot in Car

In his last account of the shooting Ferris was quoted as having told the officers he heard a muffled shot as he and Dickinson sat in the car. Frahm said Ferris told him he looked around and saw Dickinson slumped to the floor of the car. He said he seized him by the arm to pull him up and as he did so the gun was discharged a second time. In a moment of panic he said he threw the gun into underbrush at the side of the road.

A search of the area Frahm said failed to reveal the weapon.

After the shooting Frahm said Ferris told him he took the Dickinson coat and vest off and laid them on the running board and slid the body out of the car. Ordering the girls back in he drove them by their homes for clothing and they all proceeded to Chicago. There they separated the girls going to Fort Wayne and Ferris following later.

Frenchman Wins Beer Prize Amid Teuton Drinkers

By The Associated Press
MILWAUKEE July 1 — Gloom was the order of the day on Milwaukee's north side as the residents contemplated the defeat of men bearing such names as Berghausen Schneider Uhlungudt and Schwinck by one red haired Verette in a beer drinking contest.

Loyalists of Teutonic descent still contended that in spite of their defeat by French named champion beer was still a mighty good German drink and took solace from the fact that Verette's time of 31 seconds for a half gallon was only three seconds better than that of their ace contender Whitney Berghausen who put away the suds in a preliminary round in 37 seconds.

The 110 pound champion today tucked away the silver trophy he won Saturday night and went back to his job as a brewery truck driver.

BRITISH OFFER TO CEDE AFRICAN STRIP

Eden Tells of Offer and Rejection by Mussolini

By The Associated Press
LONDON July 1 [illegible] Captain Anthony Eden [illegible] told the house of commons today that on behalf of the British government he had offered to cede a strip of British territory to Ethiopia in an effort to end the Italo Ethiopian dispute.

He further disclosed that Premier Mussolini of Italy had turned the suggestion down.

When Eden had finished his statement the government ran into a storm from opposition leaders who demanded to know whether the house of commons would be consulted before British territory was ceded to foreign power.

Their answer from Sir Samuel Hoare foreign secretary was the curt statement:

"The commons must trust the executive department in these matters. If it is not prepared to trust the government the whole basis of government is destroyed."

ATHLETES SAY: "THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND!"

CARL HUBBELL star pitcher of the N Y Giants Camels are so mild they never get my wind or ruffle my nerves

SAM HOWARD, the high diving champion, says I can smoke Camels all I want to and keep in perfect condition Camels are so mild They never get my wind And when tired a Camel gives me new energy

GEORGE BARKER the former Intercollegiate track star A cross country runner has to keep in shape I've learned one thing about cigarettes—Camels are mild They don't get my wind, and they never bother my nerves

SUSAN VILAS, the free style swimming champion, comments I've discovered that Camels are mild They don't cut down my wind Camels are full of rich smooth taste!

GEORGE M LOTT, JR, tennis star, says Camels never take the edge off my condition or get my wind, because they are mild I understand more expensive tobaccos are used in Camels That accounts for their mildness!

BILL MEHLHORN, the star golfer adds this timely word I've got to keep fit to compete in tournament golf I can smoke Camels steadily From years of experience I know they won't get my wind or jangle my nerves

CARL HUBBELL, a Camel smoker for many years, caught in action on the diamond He says Camels have flavor plus mildness—a rare combination And they never get my wind I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

YOU'LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO!

Because Camels are so mild . made from more costly tobaccos than any other popular brand you can smoke all you please Athletes are agreed that Camels do not jangle the nerves or get the wind. You'll never tire of their appealing flavor.

SO MILD YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT

Camels

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

MEET the WIFE

MRS EDWARD G ROBINSON

Until the arrival of Edward G. Robinson Jr., Gladys Lloyd, of the stage, never failed to play at least a bit in her husband's films .... Ed insisted on that as one of his pet superstitions. ... Now she doesn't act any more, but is completely the wife and mother. Dark-haired, blue-eyed, attractive and gracious Mrs Robinson has a great interest in her home ... loves its furniture and beautiful pictures and knick-knacks. ... She reads all suggested movie and play scripts for her husband ... and he takes her advice seriously. Periodically, she insists he needs to "get away" for a trip by himself, that it will do him good ... Eddie usually doesn't want to go ... but he goes. She loves music, traveling, beautiful things, and ... most of all ... motherhood.

-: The :- Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THE MARRY-GO-ROUND

THE HUSBAND IN THE HOUSE.

Just about now, a lot of spring brides are beginning to discover that a man around the house is something like a bumble-bee in a closed car. He seems to take up all the room.

That's something that every seasoned wife has learned. It takes time and patience; but you can "acclimatize" yourself to a husband, just as you can to the motor of an electric ice-box or the clatter of a lawnmower so that you don't even notice the noise he makes.

You can accustom yourself to the sound of a man about the house just as you can to the buzzing of a vacuum cleaner, until his rushing around mornings ceases to disturb you and you can doze right through his conversation, without even knowing when it is turned off.

Or even as you can to the constant wailing of a radio, next door, so that you can sit right through his broadcasting of the same old wisecracks, while you mentally re-furnish the sun parlor or re-cover the porch glider.

Or you can go into the silence and close your ears to him as you would do to the yapping of a puppy, knowing that there is nothing really the matter with him and that he merely wants to attract attention or to work off his high spirits.

You can become completely insulated to the presence of a man around the house, just as you can to the dripping of the drain pipe until you would almost miss the incessant racket, the morning arts and the breakfast-table hubbub.

Or as you can to the ringing of a telephone bell, that you scarcely hear, and don't intend to answer, anyhow.

Like the hiss of the radiator, his moods, grouches and constant calls for attention are merely his way of "blowing off steam" and soon cease to upset your equilibrium or get on your nerves.

They affect you no more seriously than the buzzing of a mosquito in the room, which you know will never harm you, however much it may annoy you.

The most noticeable characteristic of a well seasoned wife is her ability to preserve her serenity and cheerfulness under all and any circumstances. Her amiable detached-calm in spite of lost collar buttons, refractory razor blades, mislaid tools, smashed thumbs and rotten golf scores.

The reason so many modern marriages go on the rocks at the end of the first year is that most modern girls haven't the patience to go through the slow process of becoming "seasoned wives."

Yet, once a wife has learned to take her husband calmly and placidly, she knows what a dull and deadly sort of place the house would be without him!
